Gurugram lab fails TN fudge test, blacklisted

Nivedha.SI@timesgroup.com

Chennai: A drug-testing laboratory in Gurugram has become the first empanelled facility of its kind to be blacklisted by Tamil Nadu Medical Services Corporation — which found that the lab could have been falsifying reports and endangering the lives of patients in government hospitals in the state.

TNMSC, which procures and distributes drugs to state-run hospitals, debarred Shagun Testing Laboratory in December, 2017 after officials found incongruities in its reports, and probed the reliability of its tests with a proxy drug.

Pak protests as Ajmer pilgrims denied visas

India Cites 'Lack Of Security Clearances, Present Situation'

Omer Farooq Khan & Indrani Bagchi | TNN

Islamabad/New Delhi: Diplomatic tensions between India and Pakistan intensified on Monday with Islamabad protesting against the denial of visas to more than 500 pilgrims seeking to visit Ajmer Sharif, and India saying "prevailing circumstances" and absence of security clearances were reasons for its decision.

While not denying that visas had been withheld, an official source said, "Such visits are facilitated and promoted following due processes. However, from time to time, such visits cannot take place in view of prevailing circumstances and absence of security clearances. There have been instances in the past when such visits did not take place from both sides."

Reacting to the denial of visas, the Pakistan foreign office said, "Pakistan notes with deep disappointment the non-issuance of visas by India for the visit of 503 Pakistani zaireen (pilgrims) to participate in the urs of Hazrat Khwaja MoINUDDIN Chishti at Ajmer Sharif, India, from 19-29 March 2018."

The decision not to grant visas indicates India is ready to suspend travel, usually seen as part of "people-to-people" contact and a consideration extended to visits to places of religious significance, in view of allegations of harassment of diplomatic staff and shelling of civilian areas in J&K by the Pakistani army.

2G scam: ED moves HC against acquittal of Raja, Kanimozhi

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The Enforcement Directorate moved the Delhi high court on Monday challenging the acquittal of former telecom minister A Raja and DMK MP Kanimozhi among others in a money laundering case in the 2G spectrum scam.

On December 21 last year, a special CBI court had acquitted Raja and 18 others, including DMK chief M Karunanidhi's wife Dayalu Ammal and daughter Kanimozhi, from the offence of money laundering. The court had also ordered release of attached properties in the case worth ₹223 crore.

The CBI is also expected to file an appeal some time this week.

Karnataka to grant religious minority status to Lingayats

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Bengaluru: In a political gamble close to the assembly polls, the Siddaramaiah government decided on Monday to declare Lingayats as a religious minority and include the Veerashaivas who follow Basavanna as a group within the community.

The move is expected to have a huge impact on the assembly polls. Some analysts say it may make or mar the electoral prospects of the ruling Congress, given that Lingayats can influence poll outcome in nearly 100 seats in the 224-member legislative assembly.

The community makes up 17% of the state's population. The BJP had opposed the move on the grounds that it would split society further.

CM says govt received no forest fire alert, FSI says it has proof

While chief minister Edappadi Palaniswami on Monday told the assembly that the state government did not receive any fire alerts from the Forest Survey of India (FSI) for the Kottagudi reserve forest (under which Kurangani hills fall) after February 15, the FSI maintained that it had sent email alerts on the fire to the Tamil Nadu forest department's nodal officer, report Julie Mariappan and Ekatha Ann.

Mumbai: A new set of global guidelines on managing diabetes that aim to replace those followed for over three decades has stirred up a row within the medical community.

Doctors in India feel the norms, which recommend relaxing blood sugar targets, will not only lead to serious complications in diabetics but also confusion in treatment protocol. They advise that these should be ignored for Indians.

Russian boy embraces ‘rejected’ heart at city hospital

Pushpa.Narayan@timesgroup.com

Chennai: Although a series of doctors had rejected a heart for their patients, Ekaterina decided to take a chance on it for her eight-year-old son, Roman, who had an incurable cardiac condition.

The case was fraught with complications — as a foreign national, Roman was eligible for a heart in India only if all other donors rejected it. “Other doctors rejected this heart because it was only 35% functional. The donor was an adult and the heart could be too big for this boy,” said Dr Su-

On Monday, mother and child packed their bags to head back to their hometown of Saransk in Russia. “I don’t know why I chose Chennai, but I’m glad I did,” said Ekaterina.

Transplant surgeon Dr K R Balakrishnan said the boy was diagnosed with cardiomyopathy — which makes it hard for the heart to pump blood — and arrived at the hospital on November 10. “His heart

To add to this, his blood group is O+, which meant patients across blood groups had to reject the heart,” he said. On January 17, the hospital received a call from the State Transplant Authority about the heart that other doctors had rejected. On the surgery table, the donor suffered a massive cardiac arrest. “But we decided to carry on. After 10 minutes of resuscitation, we transplanted the heart to the boy,” said Dr Balakrishnan.

Three injured after driver loses control over car

Three people were injured when a car ran amok and ploughed into two shops at Burma Bazaar on Sunday night. Police said the car came to a halt after hitting the pavement. The shops selling DVDs were closed for the day. On Sunday night, Venkatesan, 24, was driving from Royapuram to Parrys. He was talking to his friend Kumaresan, 26, seated beside him. When the car reached Burma Bazaar, Kumaresan lost control and hit the pavement. Johnson, 20, Shivaraman, 40 and his son Harish Kumar, 15, sustained injuries and were treated at government Stanley Medical College and Hospital. Police booked the driver for rash and negligent driving.

8 interchange stns to connect Madhavaram with IT corridor

Will Help To Crisscross Between Phase 1 & 2

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

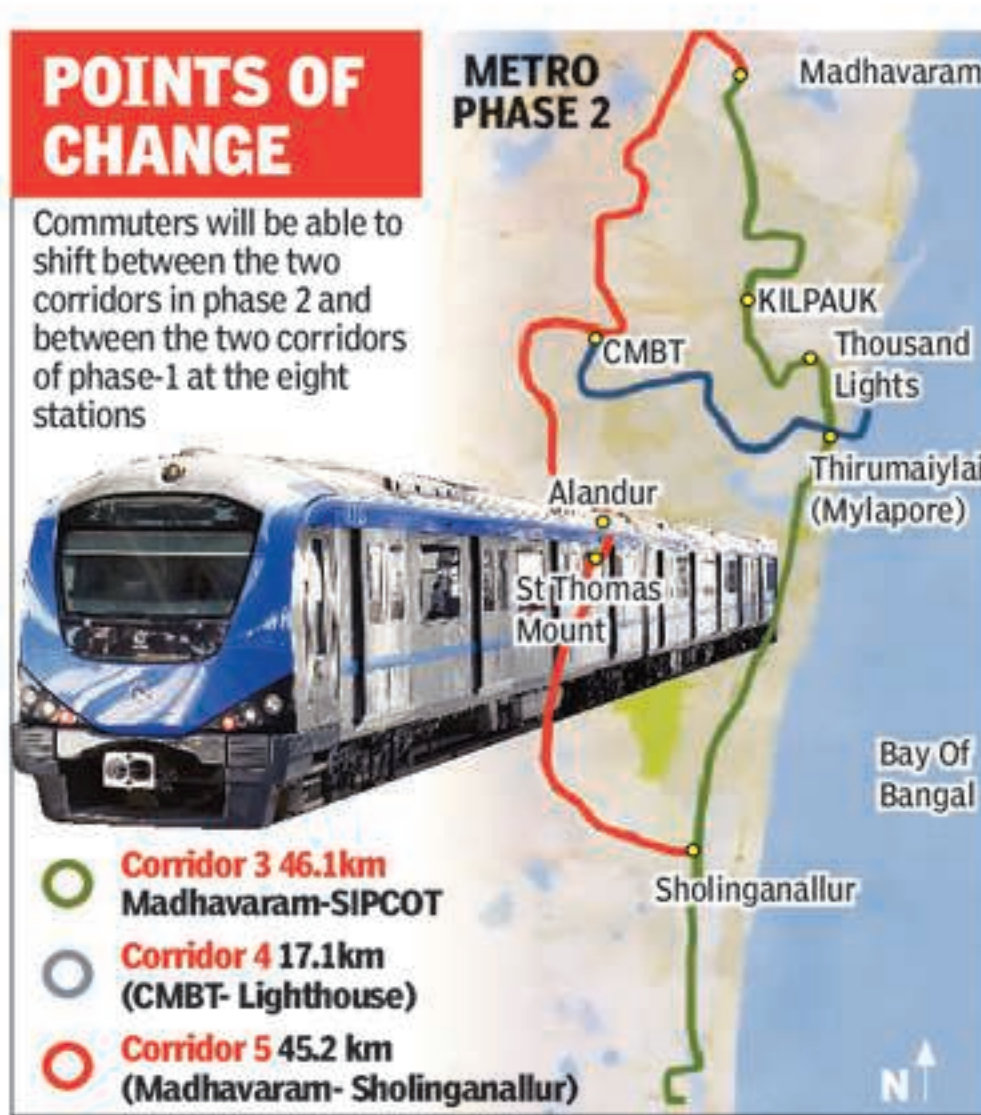

Chennai: When the city’s northernmost suburb is connected to the IT hub in the south in phase-2 of metro rail, commuters will have eight interchange stations where they can shift between corridors to reach their destinations, including Central and Egmore railway stations and the airport. The eight stations will help commuters traverse more than 91km across two corridors in the phase-2.

CMRL officials said Madhavaram, Sholinganallur, Kilpauk, Thousand Lights, Mylapore, CMBT, Alandur and St Thomas Mount will be interchange stations where the two lines of phase 2 intersect. Commuters will be able to shift between the two corridors in phase 2 and the two corridors of phase 1 in these stations. Commuters heading from Madhavaram could alight at CMBT to go to the bus terminus or shift from phase-2 corridor to phase-1 corridor to take a train to Egmore or Central metro or board a direct service to the airport. Commuters heading from Siruseri SIPCOT in the south could alight at Alandur and shift to the corridor of phase-1 to head to airport or to Koyambedu CMBT or Central.

Phase-2 will have three corridors but only two of them — Madhavaram to Siruseri SIPCOT (46.1km) and Madhavaram-Sholinganallur (45.2km) will be taken up first. Corridor 4 will be taken up only after final decision is taken on extending it. The three corridors will connect at four stations: Madhavaram in the north, Sholinganallur in south, CMBT in the east and Thirumaiyilai (Mylapore) in the west.

Corridor-4, between CMBT and Light House covering 17.1km, will however will be extended up to Poonamallee and CMRL is in the process of getting a detailed project report ready. Metro rail officials said there are already stations in five localities: Kilpauk, Thousand Lights, CMBT, Alandur and St Thomas Mount. But in phase-2, another station will be built in these localities close to the existing metro station and will be linked for easy movement of commuters between corridors of phase-1 and 2. “If a station is elevated in phase-1 and is planned as an underground in phase-2, the latter will be built close to the existing station and will be connected. Unlike stations belonging to Indian Railways, which can be extended as when the need arises, metro stations are not designed that way,” said a metro rail official.

In phase-1, Alandur serves as an elevated interchange station and Central, as an underground transit hub connecting two corridors.

Order on Karti plea against CBI notice reserved

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: The Madras high court on Monday reserved its order on the plea moved by Karti Chidambaram, son of former Union finance minister P Chidambaram, assailing the lookout circular issued against him by the CBI.

Recording the written arguments filed by the parties to the plea, including the central immigration department, the first bench of Chief Justice Indira Banerjee and Justice Abdul Quddus said they are reserving their decision.

Karti was restrained to leave India by CBI, which has issued a lookout circular against him in connection with an FIR registered by the agency, in the alleged irregular approval of ₹305 crore foreign investment in INX Media in 2007, allegedly at the behest of Karti when his father was the union finance minister.

In August 10, 2017, a single judge of the high court stayed the lookout circulars and permitted Karti to travel abroad.

On CBI's appeal questioning the high court's jurisdiction to entertain the petition when the FIR was registered in Delhi, the Supreme Court on August 14, 2017 stayed the order and directed Karti to appear before

Karti was restrained from leaving India by CBI, which issued lookout circulars against him in connection with an FIR it filed the agency for questioning.

Subsequently, when the plea came up for hearing before a bench headed by Chief Justice of India Dipak Misra, the court asked the Madras high court to decide the petitions filed by Karti and others challenging the lookout circulars within two months. The court said it would be open to the CBI to question the high court's territorial jurisdiction to entertain the issue when the FIR was lodged in Delhi.

On February 28, when Karti travelled abroad backed by the high court's order and returned, CBI arrested him in Chennai airport.

Plea on PG medical quota for in-service candidates

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: Doctors in state government service have approached Madras high court for a direction to the Centre's director-general of health services (DGHC) to comply with Post Graduate Medical Education Regulations, in admissions to PG medical courses and award due weightage marks for service rendered in remote/difficult areas. They also wanted reservation of 50% of seats for such service candidates under all India quota.

Justice R Mahadevan directed the government advocate to get instructions from the authorities concerned and adjourned the hearing to March 22. In his petition C Sudhan and six others said they were in-service candidates working as assistant surgeons in Tamil Nadu Medical Services. They appeared for NEET PG 2018 and secured more than 50% marks and thereby they were declared as eligible for admission to PG medical courses.

“The places we serve are notified as remote/difficult areas as by the state government and thereby we are entitled for additional weightage marks as per Regulation 9(IV) of PG Regulations 2000 under all India quota seats. But authorities are proceeding to conduct counselling for admissions to PG courses without awarding such weightage marks for service candidates,” the petitioners said.

Boy, 14, bids to remove kite in live wire, electrocuted

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: A 14-year-old Class VII student of a private school electrocuted when he attempted to remove a kite that got entangled on to an electric post near his house in Kundrathur on Monday. Police said Harish Dhandapani was playing with his friends on a ground over which the high voltage wire passes. He climbed on a tree close to the live wire when he noticed the kite trapped in the cable.

Harish used a stick first to lift the kite. However, as he failed in the attempt and he climbed on the tree near the cable.

While removing the kite from the live wire Harish was electrocuted and was thrown off the tree to the ground. He suffered severe burns.

His friends and other came to his rescue and they informed police. He was rushed to a private hospital in Porur, where the doctors examined him and confirmed him dead on arrival. His body was sent to the Sri Ramachandra Medical College hospital and Research Institute for autopsy and his family members were informed about his death. A case has been registered.

37k liquor cases unsold: Tasmac to fine booze cos

Yogesh.Kabirdoss

Chennai: Nearly 36,600 cases of liquor worth of ₹25 crore that remained unsold for more than three months in TASMAC wine shops, will attract a fine. The state owned marketing corporation has decided to collect penalty of ₹50 on every case of Indian Made Foreign Liquor (IMFL) and beer that were not off the shelves turning into white elephant incurring wasteful expenditure while returning the unsold liquor from shops to depots. Hitherto, TASMAC workers employed in liquor outlets were allegedly bearing the brunt of paying up for the transportation charges, which would be now passed onto the respective breweries and distilleries.

According to TASMAC sources, an enumeration by district managers across the state revealed that about 36,600 liquor cases did not find any takers for more than 90 days between November 2017 and January 2018. “The distilleries would supply the liquor cases at TASMAC depots. In turn, alcoholic beverages would be transported from the depots to shops. However, the burden of returning the unsold liquor fell on the shop employees, who must pay for the transportation charges while returning it to the depots,” a source said. “For recovering this expense, the TASMAC administration has decided to levy the penalty on breweries and distilleries,” the source added.

More than 4500 TASMAC liquor outlets are operating across the state, of which about 300 are situated within Chennai. TASMAC sources said that a chunk of the unsold inventory were premium liquor. “There are a few instances of wine shop incharge increasing the inventory for the brands that are not popular among the tipplers,” a senior official said. This leads to accumulation of liquor cases and higher returns of unsold inventories, as well.

A circular issued by the TASMAC administration to district managers said that the latter should send their report regarding the details of unsold liquor in the retail vending shops by 10th of every month mentioning the penalty for each distillery and brewery. Asked about the complaints of a section of salemen refusing a particular brand sought by the consumer despite it was available in the wine shops, a senior official said that such instances were ‘rare’.

World's first stone carving city stares at fragile future

Chennai: Mamallapuram has earned the honour of being declared the world's first stone carving city and holds the GI tag for sculptures made in the ancient town. However, despite these laurels, the centuries old sculpture industry in the shore town is facing a bleak future with craftsmen raising concern that the unique art may be on the brink of extinction.

Lack of interest among the new generation to learn the art, non-availability of appropriate rock for carving and poor promotion of stone sculptures in the international market have pushed the sculpture industry to acrisis.

K Mahadevan, president of Mamallapuram Sculptors Welfare Association, said the demand for stone sculptures has not dipped but sculptors are facing hardships in accessing the raw material of blue rock. “Traditionally, sculptors have been using this particular rock sourced from a hillock at Sankarapuram in Kancheepuram taluk. About 18 years ago, the district administration declared the hillock as a stone quarry for producing blue metal. Though a stay has been obtained from the high court that the hillock should not be diverted for any other purpose, the government is yet to allow us to take rock from Sankarapuram,” he said.

There are about 500 workshops employing 2,000 professional craftsmen in Mamallapuram. The sculptors largely create statues of Lord Buddha, Vinayagar, Hanuman, Amman besides the statues of elephants. Annually, business to the tune of anywhere between ₹100 crore and ₹120 crore is recorded. Sculptors said 50% of their works are exported to overseas.

DELICATE DEITIES: A sculpting unit at Mamallapuram

With the doors to blue rock from Sankarapuram closed, sculptors are exploring rocks sourced from other quarries in Kancheepuram. “Another reason that worries us is that the new generation in Mamallapuram is reluctant to pursue sculpting as a profession and the scenario may lead to the ancient artwork ending with us,” master sculptor T Baskar said.

Advocate P Sanjay Gandhi, who recently presented the GI certificate for Mamallapuram sculptures to chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami, said stone carving art of Mamallapuram dates back to more than 1500 years. “The government can promote the Mamallapuram sculptures by procuring the artworks and place it in its buildings. This would not only improve the livelihood of the existing sculptors but also attract the next generation towards the ancient art,” he added.

Poompuhar chairman and managing director Santhosh Babu said he has written to the industries department to earmark the hillock at Sankarapuram to source rock for professional purposes.

4-month sparrow census from March 25

The Exercise By Madras Naturalists' Society Attempts To Create An Atlas For The City

Are you a bird lover keen on helping a creating database for sparrows whose population in the city has been dipping alarmingly?

The Madras Naturalists' Society (MNS), in a bid to create an atlas for the city, will organise a four-month long house sparrow census, beginning on March 25 at Elliot's Beach, that you can be part of.

The MNS is seeking to know where sparrows are still found in the city, where they were most abundant before and where they have declined. Participants can look for sparrows in their backyard or in their neighbourhood and record their observations on

Not too long ago, Vijayakumar says, sparrows were in every nook and corner, flitting in and out of residences or nesting in shops, schools and the like. While some parts are still home to a few, certain parts of the city are completely devoid of these tiny birds, he said.

The main reason, says V Shantaram of Rishi Valley-based Institute of Bird Studies and Natural History, is that glass and steel building, with few Chennai: Chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami on Monday informed the assembly that the state government did not receive any fire alerts from Forest Survey of India (FSI) of the Union ministry of environment and forests in Kottagudi reserved forest (within which falls Kurangani hills) after February 15. Several trekkers were trapped in a forest fire in Kurangani hills on March 11 and 17 have died so far.

Palaniswami's statement contradicts the FSI's claim that alerts had been sent to the state. In an official statement, the environment ministry on Sunday said two emails providing the coordinates of forest fires in Kurangani forest beat were sent to the nodal officer of Tamil Nadu forest de-

The ministry said the alerts pertaining to two satellite passes were auto-processed after receiving information from National Remote Sensing Centre, Hyderabad, and email alerts were sent to the nodal officer of TN government. FSI officials told TOI that they got proof of the email warning sent to the nodal officer-cum-chief conservator of forests through automated system. Alerts were also sent to registered users and hosted on FSI portal.

Palaniswami said there was no fire when the trekkers took the route from Kurangani to Kollukumalai tea estate on March 10. "Going by FSI notification, the last fire episode took place in Kottagudi reserve forests on February 15. "This fire was put out by the forest department. There was no fire alert from FSI since," the CM said. He was making a statement in the assembly after several opposition members drew the attention of the House about Kurangani fire. Palaniswami said the field staff of the forest department noticed the fire at 2.30pm on March 11.

The watcher, along with three members of the eco-development committee, came to know of the trapped trekkers when they reached the spot at 5pm. The trekkers too contacted 108 ambulance service. Up on instructions, forest officials rushed to the scene at 6.30pm, the CM said. Palaniswami said a team of 12 from Erode and Tirupur, had taken the Kurangani route to reach a private tea estate in Kottagudi without permission. They, however, got entry passes for Top Station. They stayed in an unauthorised guest house that night, despite the expiration of entry passes. They were joined by another team from Chennai.

DMK leader M K Stalin said the tragedy could have been averted had the FSI alerts been taken into account immediately. "There are reports of 250 people from TN being registered with FSI for alerts. The government has to insist that all officers be part of the system," he said.

But FSI stands by earlier statement

Ekatha Ann John & Julie Mariappan | TNN

Chennai: Hours after the state government denied receiving any alert from the Centre on Kurangani fire, the Forest Survey of India, which comes under Union ministry of environment and forests, described it as a "natural reaction."

Senior officials of FSI, headquartered in Dehradun refused to be drawn into the controversy with the state government.

"Their reaction is natural. If the inquiry committee (led by senior bureaucrat, Atulya Misra) has any clarifications, they can approach us," was all a senior official could say.

FSI director-general, Siddhanta Das, said the environment ministry had already made its stance clear in its statement issued late on Sunday — that two alerts were disseminated to the state nodal officer, Tamil Nadu Forest department, on March 11 at 2.29pm and 3.37pm.

The FSI always provides fire alerts to state forest departments through email and SMS to aid in better fire management at the field level.

The automation of the whole process includes, night-time alerts. The alerts are sent to registered users of the FSI portal.

When TOI contacted the district forest officer, E Rajendran, the officer refused to comment to any queries — If he is a registered user for SMS alert or when did he receive the alert from the nodal officer. "The inquiry is on," he said.

A senior official, seeking anonymity said the mobile connectivity could also have hampered the dissemination of message from FSI.

Wait till March 29 for Cauvery board, says OPS

ASKS FOR PATIENCE: The deputy CM said TN would not give up the its rights to Cauvery

Chennai: Even as opposition parties are stepping up pressure on the ruling AIADMK — the third largest party in the country — to back the no-confidence motion moved by Telugu Desam Party against the Modi government, the AIADMK has decided to wait till March 29 for the Centre to set up the Cauvery Management Board and would take further course of action later.

This comes in the backdrop of complaints that the six-week deadline given by the Supreme Court to constitute the permanent bodies would end shortly. The court pronounced its verdict on the festering water dispute on February 16. Deputy chief minister O Panneerselvam said the state would not give up the its rights to the interstate river. "We have the SC order. We cannot discuss it and therefore, we have to remain patient. Only if nothing fructified, we could meet then and take a good decision," the deputy CM said, responding to leader of opposition, M K Stalin, who urged the state to support the no-confidence motion.

The DMK leader said that an all-party and farmers meeting on February 22 passed a unanimous resolution to meet PM Narendra Modi to exert pressure on him to set up Cauvery Management Board and Cauvery Water Regulation Committee. Since it was getting delayed, the assembly passed another resolution unanimously on March 15 to set up the board and committee. "But is there any information received by the government? When TDP moves a no-confidence motion for special category status to Andhra Pradesh, let the TN government also show keenness," Stalin said, urging the state government to send the message to MPs in Delhi.

Lok Sabha was, however, adjourned on Monday, and the TDP and YSR Congress could not move the motion af-

'Salary revision behind debt rise'

Chennai: Deputy chief minister O Panneerselvam on Monday attributed the rise in debt-GSDP ratio in the last two years to the substantial increase in salaries and pension components of the government employees. There is no corresponding growth in state's own tax revenue to meet these additional requirements, he said. He was reacting to DMK MLA B Ranganathan, who raised concerns over mounting debt. "The debt-GSDP ratio increase is owing to drop in state's own tax revenue growth rate, especially in the receipts from commercial taxes and excise duty through Tasmac sale," the deputy chief minister said. The improvements to economy and the resultant growth in revenue receipts will help decrease the debt burden, Panneerselvam said the net outstanding debt will be ₹3.56 lakh crore at the end of March next year. TNN ter AIADMK MPs disrupted the proceedings for the Cauvery board. Panneerselvam said the Parliament had been stalled for a week now due to protests by AIADMK members. "Never in the history of Tamil Nadu, a public issue has been stalled for a week in Parliament," the deputy CM said. "The special category status sought by Andhra Pradesh is their problem. I request the opposition leader not to link the issue with that of Cauvery," he added.

MLAs go for lunch, party senior upset

Deputy opposition leader Duraimurugan was upset when all his party MLAs left together during lunch hour, leaving the benches vacant. He was then seen gesturing to the DMK whip and deputy whip to bring back all the MLAs. Soon enough, half the seats were filled up and finally at the end of the session, all MLAs were seated. The deputy opposition leader, however, left early.

Nothing wrong in giving funds for Jaya memorial, says AIADMK: The AIADMK government on Monday said there was nothing wrong in allocating funds to build a memorial for former chief minister J Jayalalithaa on the Marina beach front. During the budget debate, electricity, prohibition and excise minister P Thangamani, in response to DMK MLA B Ranganathan, said every day several thousands of tourists and fans visited her burial spot on the beach and added that there was nothing wrong in allocating funds for constructing a memorial. The government has allocated about ₹50 crore for constructing a memorial for the late chief minister.

Lokayukta to be set up only after Centre decides on changes, says minister: The Tamil Nadu government will set up Lokayukta only after the Centre decides on the pending Lokpal amendment Bill, minister D Jayakumar said. Participating in the budget discussion, the minister said the state government had set up a seven-member committee led by the chief secretary to set up Lokayukta and the panel had also submitted a draft framework to implement Lokpal and Lokayukta Act, 2013. However, the Tamil Nadu government decided to wait till the amendments are made to the law so there would be no contradictions.

Legislators' kin can take part in tenders: CM

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: Chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami said the relatives of legislators could participate in government tenders, if they are found eligible.

Responding to DMK member, B Ranganathan's allegations about a contractor related to a top politician in the government, the chief minister said there was nothing in the rules that suggested only certain people could participate.

"If they are eligible, they can be awarded," he said.

Later, electricity minister P Thangamani said the contractor had been in business for more than two decades in several states and he should not be faulted for being a relative to the elected representative.

The contractor's name was expunged.

AIADMK MLA attacks actors in assembly, makes EPS a hero

Sivakumar.B@timesgroup.com

Chennai: Tamil actors, who recently took the political plunge, were subject of scathing attack in the Tamil Nadu assembly on Monday. Participating in the budget debate, AIADMK member and former minister Thoppu Venkatachalam said chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami was a Tamil as against some actors, who hailed from outside Tamil Nadu and nursing political ambitions here.

The budget session is the first after one of the actors launched his party and another became active in politics. The latter said he could administer a government similar to that of AIADMK founder M G Ramachandran, whose centenary birth anniversary the Palaniswami government celebrated across Tamil Nadu.

"An actor can be a tiger in movies, but he will be a mouse in politics when pitted against AIADMK," said the former minister in a no-holds-barred attack against the two actors. Though Venkatachalam named the actors, assembly speaker P Dhanapal expunged the names after opposition leader and DMK working president M K Stalin said he was opposed to a person, who was not present in the house, being demeaned. "It is not the assembly tradition to debate about or discuss a person who is not present in the assembly and the speaker must take a decision on names of such persons going into assembly records," said Stalin.

SPEAKER EXPUNGES THEIR NAMES

But, Venkatachalam continued his attack. "Our chief minister is a Tamil and AIADMK is a party for Tamils," he said. "Our chief minister cannot flick a cigarette into his mouth nor does he know to direct or produce a film called Dasavatham." Venkatachalam said Palaniswami was not an expert in delivering dialogues in movies too, said the MLA, who was a minister between 2011 and 2016.

The MLA then spoke about tweets of an actor and made snide remarks about his party's name. "Our chief minister does not know how to post tweets that nobody understands and thereby take a middle (Maiani) stand. But the chief minister understands the problems of the people and works to solve them," said Venkatachalam. The MLA praised almost all senior AIADMK ministers, mentioning deputy chief minister O Panneerselvam at the end.

‘Incidence of cancer in kids up by 1.1% every yr’

India Accounts For 20% Of Such Cases, Says Doc

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Puducherry: While the incidence of cancer among children increases by 1.1% in the country every year, the survival rate of those patients in Jawaharlal Institute of Postgraduate Medical Education and Research (Jipmer) hovers at 50%, said Biswajit Dubashi, head of the department (medical oncology) at Jipmer. Meanwhile, the survival rate of children with cancer in Western countries is greater than 70%, he added.

India accounts for about 20% of total incidence of childhood cancer in the world, with childhood cancer accounting for 1.6% to 4.8% of all cancers in the country, Dubashi said in a statement. Leukaemia, lymphoma and central nervous system tumours are the most common types of cancer in children treated at Jipmer; the statement said.

“The rate of abandonment has decreased from 25% to 10% since the launch of Jipmer’s paediatric cancer registry

Dubashi cited the lack of awareness, difficulty in access to healthcare, treatment abandonment and non-centralization of treatment procedures as some of the reasons for the gap in survival rate.

However, on a brighter note, he said that the rate of abandonment has come down since the launch of Jipmer’s paediatric cancer registry in 2010.

“The rate of abandonment has decreased from 25% to 10% since the launch of the registry. Resident doctors and medical social workers play a significant role in reducing treatment abandonment by providing rigorous counselling, arranging for financial and logistic support and with regular follow-up over phone,” he said.

The institute observed International Childhood Cancer Day on Sunday in an effort to create awareness about the disease. The theme for this year was ‘Mera Hag, Mera Bachpan, Mera Jeevan: I deserve my childhood, my life’. Jipmer director S C Parija flagged off a rally, which commenced near the Gandhi Statue on Beach Road and culminated at Ambedkar Manimandapam.

The institute also organised a series of talks on creating awareness on childhood cancer at various schools in Puducherry.

AIADMK, DMK spar over Tasmac bars in assembly

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: The assembly on Monday witnessed an interesting duel between the opposition and the ruling benches over the operation of Tasmac outlets. While a DMK MLA offered to get his cadres to manage Tasmac bars legally, citing illegal bars in operation across the state and resulting in revenue loss, the ruling party questioned the stand of DMK over its avowed total prohibition policy.

Participating in the budget debate, Thirumaiyam DMK MLA S Regupathi linked the government’s failure to successfully auction Tasmac shops across the state with the dwindling tax revenue of state.

“Each month the government can earn not less than ₹26 crore from the bars alone, but it is losing that revenue and most bars are being managed illegally by ruling party-men. There are more than 100 bars in Pudukkottai district alone which are working illegally,” accused Regupathi.

The DMK MLA offered to get his cadres to manage Tasmac bars legally, citing illegal bars in operation across TN and resulting in revenue loss

“We will ask our partymen to manage the bars after taking over through government auction,” he offered.

Immediately electricity, prohibition and excise minister P Thangamani retorted, “The MLA says his partymen will take the bars in auction and if that is true, what has happened to DMK’s policy of total prohibition.”

He denied that the government is losing revenue by not auctioning bars. “Across the state we have auctioned bars, but in some places we did not get the right price. The member should furnish details on illegal bars and action will be taken,” assured Thangamani.

Woman, two daughters found charred

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Erode: A 45-year-old woman and her two daughters were charred to death in their house near Chitthode here on Monday morning. While the exact cause of fire is yet to be ascertained, the police suspect that the woman might have set the trio ablaze or in a suicide bid, the fire might have spread and claimed the lives of her two daughters.

The deceased were identified as R Jayamani, of Thayirpalayam, and her daughters Dhanushya, 18, and Pavithra, 14. Jayamani was a housewife, while Dhanushya was a first year B Com student at a private college and Pavithra, a Class VII student.

At the time of the incident, Jayamani’s husband Raju was out in a nearby agriculture field for work. When neighbours found thick smoke emanating from the house, they alerted Raju. When informed, fire and rescue services personnel and the Chitthode police doused the blaze and found the charred bodies.

Initially, the police suspected it to be a case of LPG cylinder blast. But, there were no signs of a gas cylinder explosion. “The cause of fire is yet to be ascertained,” a police officer said.

Docs remove 2kg ball of hair from 7-yr-old girl’s abdomen

Shanmughasundaram J @timesgroup.com

Vellore: A ball of hair weighing nearly 2kg was removed from the intestine and stomach of a seven-year-old girl, who was suffering from the rare ‘Rapunzel’ syndrome, by a team of doctors at the Government Vellore Medical College Hospital. Rani (name changed), daughter of construction workers and native of Arcot, was admitted to the hospital on February 14 with complaints of chronic abdominal pain and vomiting for over six months. “The girl was referred to the GH by one of the doctors who treated her. We noticed a swollen mass in the upper abdomen portion. Her parents also informed us that the girl was not taking food properly. The vomiting aggravated over the last six months when the girl also complained of severe pain,” said paediatric surgeon Dr V Ravi Gopinath, who performed the surgery on March 6.

The girl’s mother had found locks of the girl’s hair missing. The doctor treating her suspected that it could be a case of trichobezoar (a mass found stuffed in the gastrointestinal tract), which was confirmed by tests later. “We found that a ball of hair masked the abdomen and the intestine. We have come to a conclusion that the girl was suffering from Rapunzel syndrome,” said the doctor; and added that only 45 to 50 cases of Rapunzel syndrome have been documented across the world.

“The condition was a fallout of depression,” said the doctor, adding that the girl she felt insecure. “We removed the ball of hair weighing between 1.5-2kg in a surgery that extended for close to 90 minutes. The girl recovered well and has started to take food,” said Dr Gopinath. The girl was discharged on Monday

Sec 144 imposed to prevent protests for Ram temple yatra

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Tirunelveli/Chennai: Tirunelveli district Collector Sandeep Nanduri on Monday evening clamped section 144 of the CrPC across the district from March 19 to 23 to stall protests against the ‘Ram Rajya Rath Yatra’ that will pass through the district twice during the period. “The procession will not be interrupted,” the collector told TOI.

The order was passed based on a recommendation by district superintendent of police P Ve Arunsathikumar. The police report said there is a possibility of persons from other districts indulging in protests. Section 144 bans assembly of five or more persons in public places. Members of Manithaneya Makkal Munnetra Kazhagam (MMM) staged a demonstration in front of the district collectorate earlier before petitioning the collector, requesting him not to grant permission for the yatra.

Nanduri said the procession would cross the district early on Tuesday and enter Virudhunagar. It will once again cross Tirunelveli district en route to Kanyakumari on Thursday. Police would be deployed at vulnerable places.

In the assembly, erstwhile AIADMK allies, MMMK leader Thameen Ansari, Karunas and Thaniyarasu, along with DMK ally, IUM’s Md Abubacker, walked out to protest speaker P Dhanapal denying them permission to raise the issue. The yatra was organised by the Maharashtra unit of Sree Ramadasa Mission Universal Society to mobilize support for a Ram temple.

DMK’s M K Stalin, in a statement, condemned the AIADMK government for allowing the yatra inside TN, saying it would disrupt religious harmony.

Srirangam ashram head dies of heart attack

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Trichy: The 11th head of the Srirangam Srimad Andavan Ashramam, Sriranga Ramanuja Mahadesikan, died of a heart attack in Chennai on Monday. He was 84.

His mortal remains were brought to Trichy later in the night and the funeral will take place at Kollidakalai in Srirangam on Tuesday.

In a message, chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami said he was deeply grieved by the passing of Mahadesikan. He remembered how ‘Aandavan Swamigal’ offered discourses by participating in several conferences. “Apart from his spiritual works, Aandavan Swamigal also undertook several social service initiatives,” he mentioned. Palaniswami offered condolences to the Aashram officials and Mahadesikan’s sishyas.

Born as Sri Poovarahachariyar at Srimushnam in Cuddalore district in 1935, he got married in 1960 and had five sons and two daughters.

Mahadesikan was appointed ‘Srimad Aandavan’ (head) of the ashram in 1989 at the age of 54.

Through the course of 29 years as the pontiff, he had undertaken multiple initiatives. It included starting several goshalas to provide shelter for cows, apart from setting up several Veda Patalas. Most notably, he founded Srimad Andavan Arts and Science College in Trichy in 1996.

At 13, he began learning Sanskrit at Sri Ahobila Mutt in Madurantakam and continued studies at Shri Kaku-mani Audikesavalu Chetty in Chennai.

Mahadesikan also learned Tamil at Sripurumbudur Sanskrit College. While working at Hyderabad Sanskrit College, he also learnt Telugu.

Mahadesikan had worked for 27 years as a Tamil teacher at government schools in the state.

Herald case: Young Indian firm told to deposit ₹10cr

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The Delhi high court directed Young Indian Pvt Ltd (YI), whose major stakeholders are Congress president Rahul Gandhi and his mother Sonia Gandhi, on Monday to deposit ₹10 crore in the ₹249 crore income tax proceedings against the firm.

A bench of Justices S Ravindra Bhat and A K Chawla said the company can deposit half the amount with the income tax department before March 31 and the remainder by April 15, adding that if the money is deposited the I-T department won't enforce its demand of more than ₹249 crore as long as the plea is pending.

The HC listed the matter for April 24 for further hearing and sought a response from the I-T department which has demanded ₹249 crore for the assessment year 2011-12.

The firm Young Indian is accused, along with Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi, in the National Herald alleged misappropriation of assets case. It was incorporated in November 2010 with a capital of ₹50 lakh after which it acquired almost all the shareholding of Associated Journal Ltd (AJL), the owner of the National Herald newspaper.

Senior advocate Arvind Datar, appearing for YI, urged the court to further relax its conditions, arguing that the company would be hard put to raise ₹10 crore and seeking for the amount to be fixed at ₹7.5 crore.

Datar also prayed that the HC allow the company to deposit the amount in court, saying it was extremely difficult to get a refund from the I-T department. But the I-T department opposed the plea and maintained that the company had to deposit ₹49 crore as 20% of the demand for its appeal to be heard.

But the bench said YI should first deposit ₹10 crore with the I-T department for its appeal against the demand to be heard by the appellate I-T authorities and told the tax authorities to expeditiously hear YI's appeal against the assessment order.

Upper House Adjourned Despite Chair's Appeals, Similar Story In LS Too

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: As Parliament remains dysfunctional, the Rajya Sabha was adjourned for the day in under six minutes, and the Lok Sabha could only function for a few minutes longer on Monday as the government-opposition standoff entered its third consecutive week.

Appealing to protesting MPs from TDP, YSR Congress, TRS and AIADMK and urging them to take their seats, Rajya Sabha chairman M Venkaiah Naidu said, "Friends, people are laughing at us. Parliament will become a laughing stock... Please don't do this. This is not in the interest of the country. This is not in the interest of Parliament."

Naidu said that the government and the opposition were willing to discuss all issues. However, his appeal failed to make an impact and the chairman adjourned the House till Tuesday.

Scenes in the Lok Sabha were not much different. No-confidence motions tabled by arch rivals TDP and YSR Congress against the NDA government could not be taken up yet again as the House remained in disorder. On Monday morning, even before the House met, TDP MPs gathered at the Gandhi statue in the Parliament complex to press their demand for special status for Andhra Pradesh. They were joined by AIADMK MPs demanding constitution of a Cauvery management board, while Telangana Rashtra Samithi MPs raised their own set of demands.

In the Lok Sabha, however, while TDP MPs remained seated and appeared willing to allow the head count needed to see whether the no-confidence motion had the backing of the mandated 50 MPs, AIADMK and TRS MPs were in the well and led to the House being adjourned until noon in less than a minute.

When it met again, Lok Sabha Speaker Sumitra Ma-

SP says government using AIADMK to scuttle no-confidence motion

The Samajwadi Party on Monday accused the government of egging AIADMK to stage protests in the Lok Sabha to avoid a no-confidence motion even as Tamil Nadu's ruling party warned that it would not allow business in both the Houses of Parliament till the Centre gives an assurance on the constitution of the Cauvery River Management Board.

Lok Sabha deputy speaker and senior AIADMK leader M. Thambidurai told reporters that his party would not allow resumption of business in Parliament till the government gives an assurance on the floor of the House that the Cauvery River Management Board would be set up in accordance with the Supreme Court judgment by this month end.

of MPs backing the no-confidence motion. Mahajan insisted that everyone must be seated and visible to her before she counted the number of MPs backing the motion.

Expressing concern over continuous disruption of Parliament, home minister Rajnath Singh said the government was keen to facilitate all discussions. "Since the start of Parliament, the proceedings have been marred by disruptions. I want to convey that the treasury benches want discussion on any subject any MP wants, including on the no-confidence motions," he said.

The fervent plea, however, fell on deaf ears as sloganeering continued and MPs held up posters to register their protests. After MPs refused to listen, Mahajan said, "Since the House is not in order, I will not be able to bring the notices before the House. I am sorry." She then adjourned the House.

House productivity less than 10% on average

Rumu.Banerjee @timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Two weeks into the month-long session of Parliament and it's making news for all the wrong reasons. An analysis of the hours spent by members of Parliament in both the Houses shows that productivity is less than 10% on average. There were days when less than 3% of the allotted time was used for legislation.

As per the analysis of actual sitting hours, since March 5, when the second part of the budget session started, till March 16, the maximum work done in the Lower House of Parliament, was on March 14, when members of Parliament spent 42 minutes in the House. That was the day when Appropriations Bill and the Finance Bill were passed by the Lok Sabha, without discussion.

In the Upper House, the maximum sitting by MPs was

WATER WOES: AIADMK leaders raise slogans demanding constitution of Cauvery management board during the budget session in New Delhi on Monday for one hour on March 8. The reason why the session went on so long was due to Women's Day, with members speaking on the delay in women's bill as well as the strides made by women in the country.

The scheduled number of working hours in both Houses is around six hours, says PRS, which conducted the work-hour analysis. In the Lok Sabha though, it's mostly been disruptions, with actual work taking up 12 to 30 minutes on most days. The least amount spent on legislation was on March 7 by the Upper House - it spent only 9 minutes. The hours lost every day in the Lok Sabha has been over five hours daily.

The Rajya Sabha has not fared any better. Hours lost hover between 4.97 hours to 5.82 hours as most sessions have been adjourned. On most days the number of sitting hours have ranged between 11 minutes to half hour.

Not surprisingly therefore, the amount of productive hours lost is a huge 90% in both Houses through the two weeks.

A result of the minuscule number of hours spent in legislation has been the passage of bills without discussion, like the budget 2018, which didn't see any discussion. Amendments, like the one allowing political parties to be exempt from scrutiny for funds received from abroad, are other casualties of the incessant adjournments.

Eyeing 2019 polls, KCR & Mamata discuss front to fight BJP, Congress

Kolkata: Setting in motion the process to explore ways to forge a non-BJP and non-Congress federal front before the Lok Sabha polls, Telangana chief minister K Chandrashekar Rao on Monday met his West Bengal counterpart Mamata Banerjee, a development the TRS leader called the "beginning of the whole thing".

Talking to journalists after the meeting, Rao said the process for creation of a federal front has begun and he would now talk to like-minded parties.

"We are trying to bring in a real federal front. Today is the beginning of the federal front, the beginning of the whole thing. We had fruitful discussions about it. We will talk to all like-minded parties to create

With the TMC chief by his side, Rao said, "The country needs something good. It is in need of a miracle. If the BJP goes and the Congress comes, will it do any miracles?"

He underscored the need for an "alternative agenda and alternative political force" in the country.

When asked about who would lead the proposed front, he said it will have a collective leadership. Rao said the federal front will be a "people's front".

Banerjee said talks for a broad-based front have just begun, and there is no need for hurry. "In a democracy such a situation comes up when all parties need to come together to work... We don't want a particular party to rule the nation and do whatever they like," she said.

When asked whether her party was also averse to joining hands with the Congress, she retorted, saying "Don't put your words in my mouth. Whatever Mr Rahul has said, I fully agree with him. He has expressed his views. What is the harm in it?"

No vacancy for PM's post in 2019: Paswan

Dipak.Dash@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Minister for food and consumer affairs and Lok Janshakti Party (LJP) chief Ram Vilas Paswan on Monday said even though comments by some BJP leaders tended to create a wrong impression about the government, PM Narendra Modi will return to office in 2019.

"There is no vacancy of the PM's post in 2019 and opposition parties should stop daydreaming," Paswan told TOI. While coming in full support of several initiatives for Dalits and minorities, Paswan said statements by a few BJP leaders keep creating wrong perception about the Centre.

J(DU) president Nitish Kumar on Monday backed fellow NDA ally and Lok Janshakti Party chief Ram Vilas Paswan for his remarks that BJP's defeat in bypolls in UP and Bihar was a cause of concern and the alliance needed to take along all sections of the society the way Congress ruled the country for decades by "building an inclusive society". Crackdown on corruption to go on: Yogi Lucknow: Drawing a parallel with Hanuman while declaring a crackdown on corruption, UP chief minister Aditya Nath Yogi on Monday said that he would not burn down the 'Lanka' of corrupt in the state.

"Kuch logon ko bandaron se bahut dar lagta hai... main batana chahta hoon ki yahan bhik ek bandar hai jo bhrasht tantra ko jala kar nasht kar dega (Some people are very afraid of monkeys. I want to tell them that there is a monkey here who will burn down the entire corruption system)," Yogi said.

He was addressing a function organised at the Lok Bhavan secretariat to mark the completion of the BJP government's one year in office. He was hitting back at the SP MLC who had posted a "monkey joke" on social media to take a jibe at the BJP government.

BJP asks all ministers to be present at parl party meet

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The BJP parliamentary party meeting will be held at the newly-constructed party office at Deen Dayal Upadhyay Marg on Friday and instructions have gone out to ministers to be present.

To be chaired by PM Narendra Modi, the meeting is likely to be a marathon one as ministers will be asked to intensify outreach efforts to make people aware of welfare and development schemes.

Normally, the parliamentary party meeting takes place in Parliament every Tuesday when the House is in session but this one is seen as important as it is likely to discuss key issues in the run-up to the forthcoming polls, including the 2019 general elections.

The party consulted all ministers and communicated the changed schedule to them with a clear message that the meeting would be chaired by Modi in the presence of party president Amit Shah.

TAKING STOCK OF SITUATION: The meeting that will be chaired by PM Narendra Modi in the presence of BJP president Amit Shah will be held at the newly-constructed party office on Friday

It will be the first meeting of BJP seniors after the defeat in Gorakhpur and Phulphur Lok Sabha bypolls, which dampened spirits in the party just as it was marking the first anniversary of the Aditya Nath Yogi government in Uttar Pradesh.

In a TV programme on Saturday Shah had said the reasons behind the bypoll defeats would be reviewed.

BJP sources said there will be a feedback session on the political scenario in the country in the first assembly of its MPs in its new party office.

The meeting comes amid little sign of thaw in the deadlock which has marred the second leg of Parliament's budget session, which started on March 5 and has seen relentless protests by opposition parties over a variety of issues.

The din has resulted in adjournment of both Houses daily without transacting any serious business. The government, however, managed to get the finance bill and a few other bills passed without any debate.

Fashion design student accuses friend of rape

Bengaluru: A 21-year-old fashion design student has filed a police complaint alleging that her friend had raped her after a birthday party in south-east Bengaluru last week.

Ravi Ranjan, a resident of HSR Layout, has been booked for criminal intimidation and rape based on a complaint lodged by the woman, a native of Bhuvanewar and student of a north Bengaluru college, on Friday night.

The woman told police that on March 11, her friend, Himansu Bhat, invited her to attend his brother-in-law Aman in another college, joined the party later.

"The woman said she consumed beer when others forced her and became semi-conscious. Pant tripped and fell, sustaining injuries. Himansu and Puja took him to hospital. In a hurry, Himansu took the woman's mobile phone with him. Ravi Ranjan later forced the woman to have more beer, took her to his flat and allegedly raped her," police said. "Ranjan agreed to take me to Himansu to collect my cell phone, but instead took me to his flat in HSR Layout. He threatened and raped me in the bedroom," the woman alleged.

Kejriwal says sorry to Gadkari, Sibal's son; cases dropped

Delhi Chief Minister Still Faces Over Two Dozen Defamation Cases

Aamir.Khan2@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: A Delhi court acquitted its CM Arvind Kejriwal in two defamation cases—one filed by Union minister Nitin Gadkari and the other by advocate Amit Sibal, son of Congress leader Kapil Sibal—after he tendered written apologies.

Kejriwal had earlier apologised to Akali leader Bikram Singh Majithia. Though the “sorry” spree has drawn flak from within and outside the party, Kejriwal seems determined to apologise his way out of the over two dozen defamation cases he still faces.

Deputy CM Manish Sisodia said the party wasn’t interested in “ego battles”. He, however, did not give a clear answer when asked if Kejriwal also planned to apologise to Union finance minister Arun Jaitley. Sisodia too tendered his apology in the Amit Sibal case and was acquitted.

In Gadkari’s criminal defamation case, additional chief metropolitan magistrate Samar Vishal observed, “In view of the joint application, accompanied by the letter of regret and the statements of counsel of both the parties, this defamation case under Section 500 IPC, filed by Nitin Gadkari against Arvind Kejriwal, stands compounded and accused Kejriwal stands acquitted...”

Gadkari had filed a criminal defamation case against Kejriwal for alleging that he was involved in corruption. In his apology letter dated March 16, Kejriwal wrote, “Both of us are in public life belonging to different political parties. I made certain statements without regard to its verifiability, which seems to have hurt you....I have nothing personal against you. I regret the same. Let us put the incident behind us and bring the court proceedings to a closure. I suggest we should put our energy to serve the people of this country, in the spirit of mutual respect.” Gadkari, through senior advocate Pinki Anand, and Kejriwal, through lawyers Rishikesh Kumar and Mohd Irshad, filed a joint application seeking withdrawal of the former’s defamation complaint.

In the other defamation case filed by Amit Sibal against Kejriwal, the court took on record a joint application filed by both parties. Complainant Amit Sibal informed the court, “Kejriwal and Sisodia had acknowledged that I was hurt and the allegation which they made against me and my father, at the press conference held at Constitution Club on May 15, 2013, were unfounded. Both of them have further withdrawn all their statements and allegations made against me and my father and further apologized... they have regretted the damage caused to me and my family’s esteem, friends and well-wishers and regretted the hurt and loss caused to us.”

Amit Sibal, however, added that was without prejudice to the “averments made in my complaint” against other accused persons — Shazia Ilmi and Prashant Bhushan—and his right to pursue the complaint against them. “The proceedings will continue against Prashant Bhushan and Shazia Ilmi,” the court said.

“In view of the joint application accompanied by duly sworn affidavits of Arvind Kejriwal and Manish Sisodia, and copies of the letters of apology and the statements of complainant and counsel for Kejriwal and Sisodia, this defamation case filed by Amit Sibal... stands compounded and accused Kejriwal and Sisodia stand acquitted,” the court ruled.

Handicapped by seizures, can’t share info: Nirav to CBI

Neeraj.Chauhan
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Fugitive businessman Nirav Modi has written to CBI to express his inability to face the law in India, saying the central agency, with its seizures, had taken away his fundamental right to defend himself, making him “handicapped” to share any information with the investigators.

Responding to CBI’s third digital summons sent on his email, Nirav Modi wrote, “As you are aware my office servers have been seized from the Lower Parel office by CBI and thus I am unable to properly exercise my fundamental right to defend myself as per law and (have) been handicapped in a manner so as to disable me from giving any information.”

Nirav, while refusing to come to India, also told CBI that the agency didn’t provide any response to the issues raised by him pertaining to his personal safety and fairness of investigation. In its last email sent on March 13, CBI inspector D Damodaran asked Nirav to come to the Mumbai office of the agency “without fail” as his presence was very much essential for the probe.

His lawyer – Vijay Aggarwal – who represented various high profile accused in Coalgate and 2G scams, told TOI, “CBI, rather than addressing the concerns raised in previous replies, is simply sending repeated notices. My client’s

Canara bank fraud: Chargesheet filed against ex-CMD, 2 former EDs

New Delhi: The Central Bureau of Investigation on Monday filed a chargesheet against former chairman-cum-managing director of Canara Bank R K Dubey, two former executive directors of the bank, Ashok Kumar Gupta and V S Krishna Kumar, among others for alleged fraud of over ₹68 crore.

The agency had filed a case in January 2016 against Delhi-based private company, M/s Occasion Silver Pvt Ltd (OSPL) and its directors Kapil Gupta and Raj Kumar Gupta for cheating, forgery, criminal conspiracy and under the prevention of corruption act.

“It was alleged that OSPL, dealing in wholesale & retail trading of silver jewellery and articles, diamond, gold jewellery, imitation jewellery, gift items, crockery items etc had cheated Canara Bank to the tune of ₹68.38 crore through its accounts at Kamla Nagar, New Delhi branch of the Canara Bank,” said CBI spokesperson Abhishek Dayal.

The loan was sanctioned to the company in December 2013, disbursed within the next three months.

It turned non-performing asset (NPA) in September 2014, within one year of its opening, and the funds were siphoned off through a chain of alleged bogus transactions facilitated by fake sister concerns, family members and bank officials including the top executives, said Dayal.

It was also revealed during investigation that there was an alleged nexus between the bank officials with the private persons which led to the perpetration of the fraud.

The agency has alleged that Guptas knew R K Dubey and used the connection in getting loans.

The agency has SMS messages from the CMD directing subordinate officers to favour the company.

Those named in the chargesheet filed at Tis Hazari Courts on Monday include Dubey, Ashok Kumar Gupta, V S Krishna Kumar, a former DGM of Canara Bank Mukesh Ranjan, then chief general manager T Sreekanth, an assistant general manager Upendra Dubey and private persons Kapil and Rajkumar Gupta. TNN

prompt replies clearly establish that he is not a fugitive as unfortunately branded by some sections of the media.”

Aggarwal had earlier told TOI that Nirav would come clean and the Punjab National Bank (PNB) case will collapse in the court. A CBI officer said on Monday that “Nirav Modi’s replies are nothing but excuses. If he has to contest his right to defend himself, he should not do the same from a foreign country”. So far, CBI has sent notices thrice to Nirav on February 19 and 28 and March 13. The businessman had told CBI that he won’t return to India as he was busy running his businesses abroad.

Death of AIIMS doctors: Truck driver booked for rash driving

Arvind.Chauhan
@timesgroup.com

Agra: Mathura police have filed an FIR in the death of three AIIMS doctors, who were killed in an accident on the intervening night of Saturday and Sunday on Yamuna Expressway when their MUV rammied into a mini truck from the rear.

In the FIR, the driver of the truck, which is registered with Agra RTO, has been booked under sections 279 (rash driving), 304A (causing death by negligence) and 338 (causing grievous hurt by act endangering life or personal safety of others) of the IPC. According to police, after the accident the driver fled but the truck was seized. The driver’s identity is still unknown, but police teams are trying to identify and arrest him.

Station officer of Surir, Om Singh, told TOI, “The FIR was filed by an AIIMS doctor identified as Dr Prabal Sharma, who came to Surir on Sunday along with the victims’ relatives and gave written complaint regarding the accident.”

Singh added: “Prima facie it seems that the MUV driven by one of the deceased, Dr Harshad Wankhade, was trying to overtake the truck when the accident happened. The car rammied into the rear of the truck and was dragged nearly 300 metres. However, in case of an accident, regardless of who has caused it, the injured party can file a complaint. Therefore an FIR was lodged by the relatives of the doctors. At present our priority is to arrest the driver and question him.” The section related to negligence was invoked in the FIR because the truck was carrying heavy iron pipes and bars and its rear indicators were not visible to drivers coming from behind.

PM Modi in denial about threat of mass joblessness: Rahul

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: A day after he launched a highly personalised attack on PM Narendra Modi, Congress chief Rahul Gandhi targeted the PM again on Monday and said Modi was in denial about the threat of “massive unemployment” and his “acche din” claim would take a beating. In a tweet, Rahul referred to economist Paul Krugman’s remarks at an event here and said the Congress had been constantly laying stress on job creation.

“Nobel prize winning economist, Paul Krugman, confirms what we’ve been saying for over two years now. Mass unemployment is the biggest threat India faces. Unfortunately, we have a PM who lives in denial. Afraid his ‘acche din’ PR will take a beating,” Rahul said.

The Congress chief has been attacking the government over its “failure” to provide two crore jobs every year as promised by Modi, and has alleged that it has instead taken away a lot of jobs due to demonetisation and “ill-conceived” implementation of goods and services tax. Meanwhile, after the Congress declared at its plenary session that it would focus on agrarian issues, Swabhimani Shetkari Sanghatana, an erstwhile constituent of the BJP-led NDA, announced that it would work with the Congress on issues concerning farmers, hinting at a possible electoral alliance ahead of the 2019 general elections.

The Maharashtra-based party’s MP Raju Shetti met Rahul and invited him to a farmers’ convention on March 29. Shetti, however, maintained that the parties would work together on farmers’ issues and a decision on any electoral alliance would be taken after discussions.

Congress general secretary in charge of Maharashtra Mohan Prakash, who was present in the meeting, said, “Shetti met Rahul. Congress plenary declared a special focus on agrarian issues. That appealed to Shetti. We will be working together on agri issues in Maharashtra. It can be considered a pre-poll alliance in the state.” The Swabhimani Shetkari Sanghatana had quit the NDA in August last year.

‘All contract workers eligible for six-month maternity leave’

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Kochi: Contract workers serving the government are entitled to six-month maternity leave, at par with regular employees, the high court has held.

The ruling by Justice Anu Sivaraman came after considering two petitions filed by women working on contractual basis under the state government. They were allowed maternity leave only for 90 days whereas regular employees were entitled to leave of six months. A petition filed by Rakhi P V of Nayarambalam and four others was considered as the lead case by the court.

In the judgment, the court said, “The benefits of enhanced maternity leave to HIGH COURT ORDERS women employees are undoubtedly a piece of welfare legislation which is intended to give women equal opportunities in public employment... the contention raised to the effect that the contract employees under the projects are entitled to only 90 days of maternity leave, according to me, cannot be countenanced, since it would amount to discrimination against women employees only for the reason that they are engaged in projects in contractual capacities.”

SC issues notice, judge recuses himself in plea against BJP MLA

New Delhi: It seldom happens that a counsel has to mention an appeal in the Supreme Court five times in two months to merely get it listed before a bench for hearing and when it finally happens, the court issues notice and then recalls it within an hour saying one of the judges had recused.

It was intriguing for counsel Anirudh Singh that he had to mention five times before CJI Dipak Misra to get the appeal by Antarr Singh Darbar, who has challenged a Madhya Pradesh high court order dismissing his petition seeking disqualification of BJP’s Kailash Vijayvargiya as MLA, listed before a bench. In the normal course, mentioning just once before the CJI leads to listing of the petition before an ‘appropriate’ bench.

Singh mentioned this petition on January 22, February 8, February 19, March 12 and March 16 and every time the counsel was assured that the matter would be listed soon. However, the matter got listed only after Singh mentioned it before the CJI on March 16 and complained that despite several mentions, the matter had not been listed.

On Monday, Darbar’s appeal seeking Vijayvargiya’s disqualification on the alleged ground of employing corrupt practices during election was listed for hearing before a bench of Justices R K Agrawal and A M Sapre. Darbar’s counsel, Anupam Lal Das and Ravindra Singh Chhabra, came out happy from the court as the bench issued notice and sought responses in four weeks. The bench also permitted the appellant to take a copy of the notice and serve it on the respondents.

Within an hour, Das and Chhabra were asked through the court case digital display system to contact the court master immediately. The court official informed the counsel that the order issuing notice had been recalled as Justice Sapre had recused from the case.

Kerala woman seen thrashing granny, 90, in viral video, arrested

Kannur: A video of a 90-year-old woman being beaten up by her granddaughter in Kannur in north Kerala has gone viral on the social media, following which the police registered a case and arrested her on Monday.

Police said Deepa, 40, the elderly woman’s granddaughter, was booked under various Sections of IPC, including gain by unlawful means of property to which the person is not legally entitled.

The Kerala state human rights commission has suo motu registered a case and sought report from the district police chief in a month’s time. The elderly woman, identified as Kalyani along with her daughter Devaki, who was also attacked by Deepa, has been shifted to hospital, police said.

In the video, the wailing of the nonagenarian woman is heard as she was thrashed. One of the woman’s neighbours shot the video on his mobile and uploaded it on the social media. The police filed an FIR after taking cognisance of the video. A weeping Kalyani was heard in the video. She said she was beaten up every day by her granddaughter and that she has bruises all over. PTI

Report suggests 30% hike for lower court judges

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The second National Judicial Pay Commission, set up for the revision of salaries of judges of the subordinate court, has in its interim report proposed 30% increase in the basic pay of lower court judges, effective from January 1, 2016.

The commission submitted its report to the Supreme Court on March 14. The interim relief is based on the terms of reference of the judicial commission headed by former SC judge P V Reddi and is applicable to all categories of judicial officers of the subordinate judiciary. The commission was constituted by an order of the SC.

The interim order has also given benefit to the pensioners who will now draw arrears by 30% increase of the present basic pay from January 1, 2016, regardless to commuted pension. “The judicial officers working in Delhi not be entitled to draw this interim relief as they were already drawing scales from the 7th central pay commission,” a press note from the law ministry said.

“The commission will release a consultation paper in the next few days to seek suggestion from all state governments and registrar generals of all high courts,” it said. The final report will suggest rationalisation and simplification of payment of allowances with a view to promoting efficiency in judicial administration and to remove anomalies (if any), the order said.

It was a bit boring sitting at home: Malhotra

Dhananjay.Mahapatra
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: In line with the bar’s lofty tradition, senior advocate Indu Malhotra stopped practising in the Supreme Court after the collegium headed by CJI Dipak Misra unanimously recommended her name to the Centre on January 10 for appointment as an SC judge.

The collegium’s decision put the media spotlight on Malhotra as she was set to create history by being the first woman advocate to be appointed as an SC judge. The earlier six women judges in the SC in its 68-year history were all judges of high courts.

The SC has seven vacancies in its sanctioned strength of 31 judges including the CJI. Along with Malhotra, the collegium had recommended appointment of Uttarakhand Chief Justice K M Joseph, who had struck down imposition of President’s rule in the state two years ago. But the recommendations are stuck with the Centre, which has neither conveyed its reservations to the collegium nor cleared the appointments.

Indu Malhotra, first woman advocate on verge of becoming SC judge, had stopped practising after her name was proposed

The patience to conform to traditions and stop a good practice while awaiting appointment as an SC judge has its limits, Malhotra realised and decided to return to the court.

“After following a grinding schedule for so many years that involved preparations for the line of argument in each case, it was difficult to sit idle for so long. That is why I decided to return to practice,” she told TOI.

“It was getting a bit boring sitting at home without doing anything,” she said. Asked whether the delay forced her to resume practice, she tackled it diplomatically and said, “I am okay with it.” But she added, “If it was a conscious decision to stop practising after my name was recommended, it is also a conscious decision to return to practice.”

Malhotra, 61, was the second woman lawyer to be designated as a senior advocate by the SC in August 2007, nearly 40 years after it designated Leila Seth as senior advocate in 1977. Seth went on to become the first woman HC chief justice.

If the government accepts the recommendation and the President appoints Malhotra as an SC judge, she will be the seventh woman judge in the history of the SC and will have a term of nearly four years. She has practised in Delhi for the last 35 years, mostly in the SC.

The earlier six women SC judges — Fathima Beevi (SC judge from 1989 to 1992), Sujata V Manohar (1994-1999), Ruma Pal (2000-2005), Gyan Sudha Misra (2010-2014), Ranjana P Desai (2011-2014) and sitting SC judge R Banumathi — were all elevated from various HCs to the SC as judge.

Justice Joseph, who had headed a bench that quashed imposition of President’s rule in Uttarakhand after the Congress government led by Harish Rawat was sacked, was recommended by the collegium in May 2016 to be transferred as chief justice of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh HC.

However, the recommendations was never given effect to by the Centre, which appears to have serious reservation in appointing him as SC judge.

Treat construction workers like formal sector staff: SC to Centre

AmitAnand.Choudhary
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: In a bid to ensure relief to over four crore construction workers, the Supreme Court on Monday asked the Centre to treat them as formal sector employees by bringing them within the ambit of social welfare laws and provide benefits like paid maternity leave, provident fund and minimum wages.

The apex court directed the Centre to frame a model welfare scheme for workers to ensure them and their family members proper education, health, social security, old age, disability pension and other benefits which were necessary for living a life with dignity.

A bench of Justices Madan Lokur and Deepak Gupta expressed concern over the Centre and states not being serious about the plight of construction workers despite Parliament framing Building and Other Construction Workers (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act way back in 1996 for levy and collection of 1 per cent cess on cost of construction.

Governments have collected around ₹37,400 crore from cess over the years but only about ₹9,500 crore have been utilised for their benefit and ₹28,000 crore is unutilised. “The ministry of labour and employment shall actively consider making available to construction workers the benefits of the maternity benefit Act and minimum wages Act, employees’ state insurance Act, employees’ provident funds and miscellaneous provisions Act, as well as (to the extent possible) the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act,” it said.

“The Act is a welfare legislation intended and enacted for the benefit of the unorganised sector of building and construction workers, and is a serious attempt by Parliament to ensure that building and construction workers are not exploited,” the bench said.

PLA trying to 'outflank' Indian troops in Doklam?

Circumventing Army's Positions With Alternate Road Axis, Communication Trenches

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: China's road and other military infrastructure construction in the Doklam area near the Sikkim-Bhutan-Tibet tri-junction continues to cause concern in the Indian security establishment, with People's Liberation Army now trying to circumvent Indian troop positions with an alternate road axis in the region.

Sources say PLA troops are "trying to work around or outflank" the Indian Doka La military outpost, which is located on the ridge that dominates Doklam, by constructing a new 13-km long road and "communication trenches" around 4-km away from the spot. This alternate axis could allow them access towards the Jamphri Ridge in south Doklam, as the PLA had earlier wanted before the 73-day troop stand-off last year.

But Indian security establishment officials on being contacted on Monday, refused to say anything on the matter. India is "highly sensitive" about the Jamphri Ridge because it overlooks its militarily-vulnerable Siliguri Corridor or the so-called "Chicken's Neck" area.

Officials say China remains keen to usurp Doklam or the Dolam Plateau, disputed between Beijing and Thimphu, to add strategic depth to its narrow Chumbi Valley, which juts in like a dagger between Sikkim and Bhutan. India in the past had never objected to PLA patrols in Doklam but was forced to intervene in mid-June last year when the PLA troops attempted to disrupt the status quo by constructing the road towards the Jamphri Ridge.

Indian soldiers from their Doka La post had then stepped down just around 100 metres ahead to physically block PLA troops from extending the road. It had led to the 73-day face-off between the two armies before troop disengagement from the actual face-off site on August 28 after extensive diplomatic parleys.

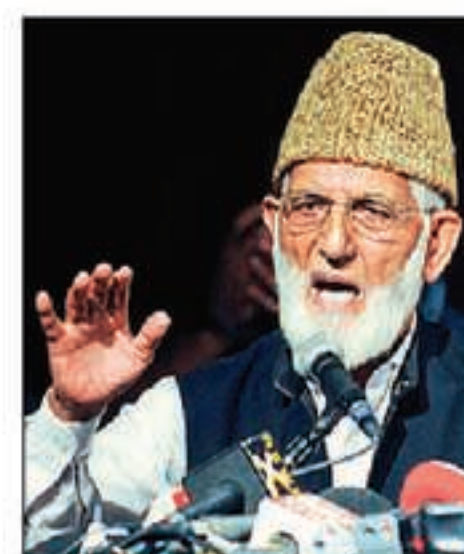

But the PLA had constructed military infrastructure and helipads as well as deployed around 1,600 troops in north Doklam (separated from south Doklam by the Torsa Nala rivulet) throughout the winter for the first time after the disengagement, as was earlier reported by TOI.

Defence minister Nirmala Sitharaman herself recently admitted in Parliament that the PLA had undertaken "construction of some infrastructure, including sentry posts, trenches and helipads" near the face-off site, while her junior minister Subhash Bhamre had also said that the situation had the potential to escalate in the coming months.

Geelani quits, another hardliner succeeds him

Salem.Pandit@timesgroup.com

BONE OF CONTENTION: Geelani has been viewed as a key separatist leader in Kashmir Valley and has been vocal in advocating Kashmiri separatism

Srinagar: Pro-Pakistan separatist leader Syed Ali Shah Geelani who headed Tehreek-e-Hurriyat for 15 years resigned from its chairmanship on Monday. He nominated his close and long-time aide 74-year-old Mohammad Ashraf Sehrai as his successor.

Sehrai will be interim chairman until formal elections are conducted as decided by the Majlis-e-Shura. However, sources said, it was completely the decision of the ISI in Pakistan to hand over the reins of Hurriyat to Sehrai because of his hard-line thinking.

The duo — Geelani and Sehrai in consultation with Jama'at-e-Islami — set up Tehreek-e-Hurriyat after breaking away from the separatist conglomerate, All Party Hurriyat Conference (APHC) headed by Mirwaiz Umar Farooq in 2003. The split happened when they accused APHC member Abdul Gani Lone of fielding proxy candidates in the 2002 state assembly polls which the separatists had boycotted.

88-year-old Geelani headed his Hurriyat faction for 15 continuous years ever since its formation. The newly anointed chairman Sehrai, considered the second strongest leader in the group, served as its general secretary.

Speculations about Geelani's successor had been rife ever since his health deteriorated in the last few years. Some members of the Tehreek believed that Geelani would nominate one of his sons as chairman. But most members were uncomfortable with such a proposition, the Hurriyat insiders said.

Like Geelani, Sehrai also demands resolution of Kashmir conflict according to the 1947 UN resolutions, bilateral talks among India, Pakistan and Kashmiri people or intervention of a third party like the United Nations or a neutral country.

Many activists and cadre in the Tehreek-e-Hurriyat believe that Sehrai was capable of commanding the masses in Kashmir. However, Sehrai is generally media shy unlike Geelani and other Hurriyat leaders.

Recommendations leading to conflicting views among docs

Physicians Say Diabetes More Aggressive In Country

American College of Physicians, an organisation of internal medicine physicians, has recommended recently in the medical journal, Annals of Internal Medicine, that clinicians should aim to achieve an HbA1c level between 7% and 8% in most patients with type 2 diabetes as against the traditional 6.5 to 7% which has been followed over decades.

The recommendation is leading to a conflict in views amongst doctors, with certain associations opposing it. Doctors here say the guideline of lowering the blood sugar target cannot be binding and should be ignored as diabetes in India is more aggressive, and hence, riddled with complications. They say these recommendations should not be applicable here as India has its own three advisory bodies—the ICMR (Indian Council of Medical Research), RSSDI (Research Society For The Study of Diabetes in India) and API (Association

NEW GUIDELINES

New norms by American College of Physicians: 4 suggestions

Clinicians treating patients with type 2 diabetes should:

Personalise goals for blood sugar control based on a discussion of drug therapy, patient preferences, treatment burden and costs of care.

Aim to achieve an HbA1c level between 7% and 8% in most patients.

Consider deintensifying drug therapy in patients with A1C levels less than 6.5%

Treat patients to minimise low blood sugar symptoms and avoid targeting an A1C level in patients with a life expectancy less than 10 years, because the harms outweigh the benefits.

DOCTORS IN INDIA SAY

HbA1c 7% and below is criterion of good control for last 30 years.

Previous studies provide robust data that maintenance of good diabetes control (HbA1c 7% or below) prevents and retards nerve, eye and kidney problems

The ACP guidelines suggest that upper limit of blood sugar control should be relaxed.

It might mean that more people will be put to danger of complications.

In those with limited life expectancy, HbA1c should be maintained above 7%, sometimes around 8%. Same for those who are elderly and suffer from advanced complications.

For younger people, the target of HbA1c should be <6.5% of Physicians of India)—which are more tuned in to Indian cases. Anoop Misra, chairman of Delhi-based Fortis-C-DOC (Centre of Excellence For Diabetes, Metabolic Diseases and Endocrinology), said, “In reality, Indian physicians continue to follow US-based guidelines, hence ACP guidelines may have substantial impact in India. If blood sugar control is loosened (as advised by ACP), more patients in India will suffer from complications, the burden of which is already high. We should ignore these, and stick to previous time-tested glycosylated hemoglobin limit of control of 7%.”

Others concur the guidelines cannot be standardized because of several differences in lifestyle, physiology and food habits. Dr Shashank Joshi, endocrinologist and diabetologist who consults at Mumbai's Lilavati Hospital, said, “Asian Indians who develop diabetes are insulin-resistant and have different phenotype (observable characteristics, physiological properties, or behavior) compared to those in the western world.

None of the North American or European guidance are applicable for Indians, Chinese or Asian geographies.” Also, since Asians consume more carbohydrates, their response to medicines and doses is different.

Says Dr Rajeev Chawla, president-elect of RSSDI 2018 and senior consultant diabetologist, “Pharmacotherapy using oral or injectable agents may be used in addition to lifestyle modification therapies to achieve a target glycosylated hemoglobin target of less than 7% for all diabetics as far as possible to prevent complications.” The RSSDI is the largest organisation of doctors in Asia engaged in diabetes care with over 7,000 members. The guidelines were first released in 2015 and revised in January 2018 based on Indian evidence.

Chhota Rajan's bro booked for raping student

Ahmed.Ali@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: A 22-year-old woman has accused gangster Chhota Rajan's younger brother Deepak Nikhalje (51) of raping her by promising marriage, according to an FIR registered with the Tilak Nagar police station. The complainant also claimed that Nikhalje assaulted her when she was pregnant and it resulted in a miscarriage. The woman is a first-year engineering student.

The police have registered an FIR against Nikhalje and transferred it to Navi Mumbai police as the complainant has alleged that he first molested her at his farmhouse in Panvel and later raped her on several occasions.

The complainant approached the police on Sunday after Nikhalje's sister threatened her and demanded that she stop harassing her brother. Nikhalje's two cellphone numbers mentioned in the FIR were not reachable. “As per the complaint, we have registered a complaint and have forwarded the same to Navi Mumbai police for further investigations,” said Vijay Khair, senior inspector of Tilak Nagar police.

Nikhalje has been booked for rape, outraging modesty of woman, causing miscarriage without woman's consent, assault, criminal intimidation and cheating.

‘Pak has carried out 560 ceasefire violations in ‘18’

In its statement, Pakistan said due to India's decision, Pakistani pilgrims have been deprived of the opportunity to participate in the urs, which is of special significance. Foreign office spokesperson Muhammad Faisal said 192 Pakistani pilgrims could not participate in the urs of Hazrat Khwaja Nizamuddin Aulia in Delhi in January this year due to non-issuance of visas.

Temperatures have been rising with India and Pakistan at loggerheads in the past month as both sides traded charges of diplomats and mission officials being harassed in each other's capitals. Pakistan brought the issue out in the open with its complaints last month and several notes verbal have been issued by India.

The ministry of external affairs summoned Pakistan deputy high commissioner Syed Haider Shah to lodge a protest “at the loss of lives of five innocent Indian civilians

(a family comprising of husband, wife and three children) and grievous injuries to two other minor children in unprovoked ceasefire violations by Pakistani forces on 18 March in Bhimber Gali sector across the Line of Control in Jammu & Kashmir”. Making its outrage clear, India said that “the deliberate targeting of innocent civilians, who are located two kilometres away from the forward line of defences, by Pakistan forces using high-calibre weapons is highly deplorable and is condemned in the strongest terms”.

India says that more than 560 ceasefire “violations have been carried out by Pakistan forces at the Line of Control so far during 2018 in which 23 Indian civilians have been killed and 70 others injured”. The Pakistani side was also asked to end the support being given to the cross-border infiltration of terrorists, including through cover fire. On Monday, India also piled on more complaints over the harassment of diplomats in Islamabad. Sources said high commission officials were “aggressively followed” when they went shopping at a mall in Islamabad.

Pakistan criticised the Indian action of not giving visas to its pilgrims, saying: “Besides being violative of the bilateral protocol of 1974 and the basic human right to religious freedom, such measures also undermine the efforts aimed at improving the environment, increasing people-to-people contacts and normalising relations between the two countries.”

Last year, Pakistan alleged, India prevented Sikh pilgrims from going to Pakistan during the martyrdom anniversary of Guru Arjan Dev and the death anniversary of Maharaja Ranjit Singh. In February, 173 pilgrims wanting to visit Katas Raj temples in Pakistan too were not allowed to travel.

BJP opposed move saying it will split society further

The community makes up 17% of the state's population. The BJP had vociferously opposed the move on the grounds that it would split society further and introduce more cleavages in the social-religious fabric. Lingayats have traditionally supported BJP, especially in northern Karnataka; so this move is seen by most as an attempt by the Congress to split the BJP's Lingayat vote base.

Monday's decision comes amid threats from Veerashaivas, led by the panchacharyas (five powerful pontiffs), against granting religious minority status to Lingayats alone. Some Lingayats said while both communities worship Shiva, Veerashaivas follow the Vedas and the caste system, which was rejected by Basava. In accepting the Lingayat demand, the government made it clear the Veerashaivas are a sub-sect of Lingayats had threatened to campaign against Congress in the polls. To pacify this section, the cabinet decided to include Veerashaiva-Lingayats as a group within the Lingayat community.

“The cabinet decided to grant minority status to Veerashaivas, who consider Basavanna dharma guru (religious head), believe in vachanas (verses) as sacred text and wear Ishta Linga (symbolic representation of a formless god). They will also be considered Lingayats,” law minister TB Jayachandra said, quoting the recommendation of a seven-member panel headed by retired judge Justice Nagamohan Das.

The cabinet has accepted the recommendation of the panel to grant religious minority status to “Lingayats and Veerashaiva-Lingayats (believers of Basava philosophy)” and is set to ratify an official notification to this effect at its next meeting, possibly next week. It will, then, recommend to the Centre that the community be granted religious minority status.

While Lingayats — who trace their origin to 12th-century social reformer Basavanna — have been demanding recognition as a separate religion and not be identified as Hindus, Veerashaivas had opposed it on the ground that Veerashaivas and Lingayats are one and the same. Lingayats said while both communities worship Shiva, Veerashaivas follow the Vedas and the caste system, which was rejected by Basava. In accepting the Lingayat demand, the government made it clear the Veerashaivas are a sub-sect of Lingayats. “After deliberations, the cabinet has decided to accept the recommendations of the State Minority Commission (based on the report of an expert committee headed by Justice Das) to consider grant of recognition as religious minority to the Lingayat and Veerashaiva-Lingayat under Section 2(d) of the Karnataka Minorities Act. It was decided to forward the same to the central government for notifying under Section 2(d) of the Central Minority Commission Act,” Jayachandra said. For now, there won't be any changes in reservation for education and jobs since the government has left it to the Centre to decide on the matter. Sources said Lingayats will continue to enjoy 15% reservation under categories 2A and 3B.

DeMon has led to tax terrorism: Yashwant Sinha

Dissident BJP leader and former Union finance minister Yashwant Sinha on Monday said demonetisation had led to “tax terrorism” and likened Prime Minister Narendra Modi to a medieval era Delhi king known for his whimsical decisions. Sinha made these remarks at the launch of a book, ‘Demonetization and the Black Economy’, by economist Arun Kumar, who has been critical of the exercise.

Padma awards to be conferred today: Noted music composer Ilaiyaraaja, Hindutva thinker Parameswaran Parameswaran and 41 other prominent personalities will be conferred with the prestigious Padma awards of 2018 by President Ram Nath Kovind on Tuesday. The function will be held at the Rashtrapati Bhavan here with the attendance of Vice-President M Venkaiah Naidu, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his ministerial colleagues besides others, an official said. Keeping its promise of honouring “unsung heroes”, the government this year honoured several personalities who served the poor, set up free schools and popularised tribal arts globally.

A thought for today
It is far more important to be able to hit the target than it is to haggle over who makes a weapon or who pulls a trigger
DWIGHT D EISENHOWER

Cut The Flab

Integrated theatre commands are key to modernisation of armed forces

In a significant move, government has notified new statutory rules and orders for the armed forces to ensure an officer from any one service can now exercise direct command over personnel from the other two services. This is the first big step towards having integrated theatre commands, where all the manpower and assets of the three services will be under the operational control of a single three-star general. This is necessary considering the dynamics of modern warfare, where a premium is put on joint planning and operations. Over 65 countries have gone in for this joint model, including all the major powers. India shouldn't lag behind.

That the new statutory rules will have particular relevance for the strategically important Andaman and Nicobar Command (ANC) is welcome. The ANC was established as India's first theatre command in October 2001, but failed to reach its true potential due to turf wars among the three services. The new rules are set to change this as the naval commander-in-chief of the ANC will now be able to directly control army and air force officers under him. Plus, the expanding Chinese presence in the Indian Ocean Region further demands that the Indian armed forces adopt the integrated approach here. Operational integration ought to be the way forward throughout the armed forces, replacing the fragmented 17 single-service commands. And the logical culmination of this is to have a chief of defence staff who will serve as the final authority in operational planning, intelligence and force allocation to integrated theatre commands. He will also be a single-point military adviser to the political leadership. Such a joint structure will be cost effective, nimble and provide for a better teeth-to-tail ratio in the armed forces.

The need for such internal reforms and streamlining becomes all the more necessary in light of the military's recent submission about the inadequacy of this year's defence budget. Given other areas of critical importance such as healthcare and education there's only so many resources defence can corner. Add to this the huge expenditure on account of One Rank One Pension. The way around would be to drastically cut military flab. And the only way to do this without compromising on operational effectiveness and leaving room for modernisation is to go for integration. Government must now push further in this direction.

Yet Another Cess

Congress's economic blueprint is a rehash of old ideas and more populism

This weekend, at the Congress party's 84th plenary session, a blueprint to boost India's economic prospects was unveiled. It covered a wide spectrum, from suggestions on revitalising the rural economy to helping the technology sector. But its default template remains a combination of loan waivers, support prices and redistribution through more taxation. The highlight was a 5% cess on the richest 1% of Indians. Missing in the blueprint was a coherent framework to make India a more competitive economy which creates job opportunities for its young workforce.

The BJP-led NDA government has run its economic policy on similar lines. All of this translates into a series of ad hoc measures which have produced a complex regulatory regime marked by high taxes. To illustrate, World Bank this month pointed out that India's GST regime not only has among highest rates in the world but is also too complicated. Governments are aware of these problems but the sense of urgency to mitigate them rarely matches the alacrity with which new taxes are levied.

Another feature common to India's national parties is their failure to deliver good governance. For instance, between 2006-07 and 2016-17, Rs 83,497 crore was raised through a cess to finance secondary and higher education. Unfortunately, this wasn't followed up with measures to identify appropriate schemes to solve India's learning crisis. When the Congress plenary promised to establish an IT Skill Upgradation Fund and a National Poverty Alleviation Fund, it was just a repetition of hackneyed ideas. The promise of farm loan waivers and a new methodology for agricultural support prices are also a rehash of palliatives. When it comes to economic policy, India's national parties still cling to populism. Concrete plans to increase productivity and jobs remain sadly elusive.

Do phoo phoo

They never really inflate the lifejacket in those air safety demonstrations

Airline speak is truly funny. Like when you are sitting in the waiting area and they say we will now pre-board small children. What is pre-board. Either they are boarding or they are not and what about those with long, tall children, do they get offloaded? Then this voice comes on the mike and says: this is your Captain speaking. Unless you are doing the full Monty or moonwalking like Michael, you are speaking, I hear you, so why say it. Pretty much the same when you land and the order is to stay in your seats and not stand till the aircraft comes to a complete halt. As opposed to what, half a halt or three quarters of one? Absolutes cannot be qualified. They then tell you to refrain from opening the overhead lockers and you think, refrain, really? Is that the best they can come up with for what could be a really nasty accident. Why not: don't even think of opening the overhead bins, OK. Refrain is a milky, lilting word more fittingly used to mark a part of a song. I watch the safety demonstration with awe. For one they never really inflate the lifejacket and that hardly inspires confidence. The yellow thing supposedly 'located' under my seat has been there since the turn of the century, what if it is mildewed and has holes in it and it won't inflate. Anyone who has handled children's toys that need blowing up will confirm that punctures are part of the parcel. Then they get to those two tubes to use manually in case the jacket gets stubborn on you but they never do 'phoo phoo' into it and impress us with the magnified result. Finally, the stewardess puts her hand above the passenger in IC and informs us that an oxygen mask will fall automatically from that hidey hole but it never truly falls from that secret compartment so in case cabin pressure drops how do I know I won't get that one mask with a mind of its own that is shy and retiring and doesn't like public appearances. Occasionally, they tell us the seat cushions can be used as a floating device. Device. Sure, this is splendid, here we are gurgling on the surface of the sea like an aerial Titanic and our saviour is a seat cushion with orange juice stains on it. Explain why you have to get on a plane rather than into it. Then they say it is a non-stop flight. Nicer if they told us it's direct and promise, cross our hearts, it will stop finally and we won't be circling the globe eternally like something out of Gravity.

Dream Of Greater India

Forget Akhand Bharat or Hindu Rashtra, Bharat Mahasangh of like-minded nations is a more feasible goal

Bhanu Dhamija
Hindu nationalists have long dreamt of a Greater India. They aspire to rebuild a nation matching the size and glory of ancient India - Akhand Bharat (Undivided India) and Hindu Rashtra (Hindu Nation). RSS and BJP leaders have often pushed for these aims much to the chagrin of India's secularists. There is no doubt both projects are daring and excite many Hindus.

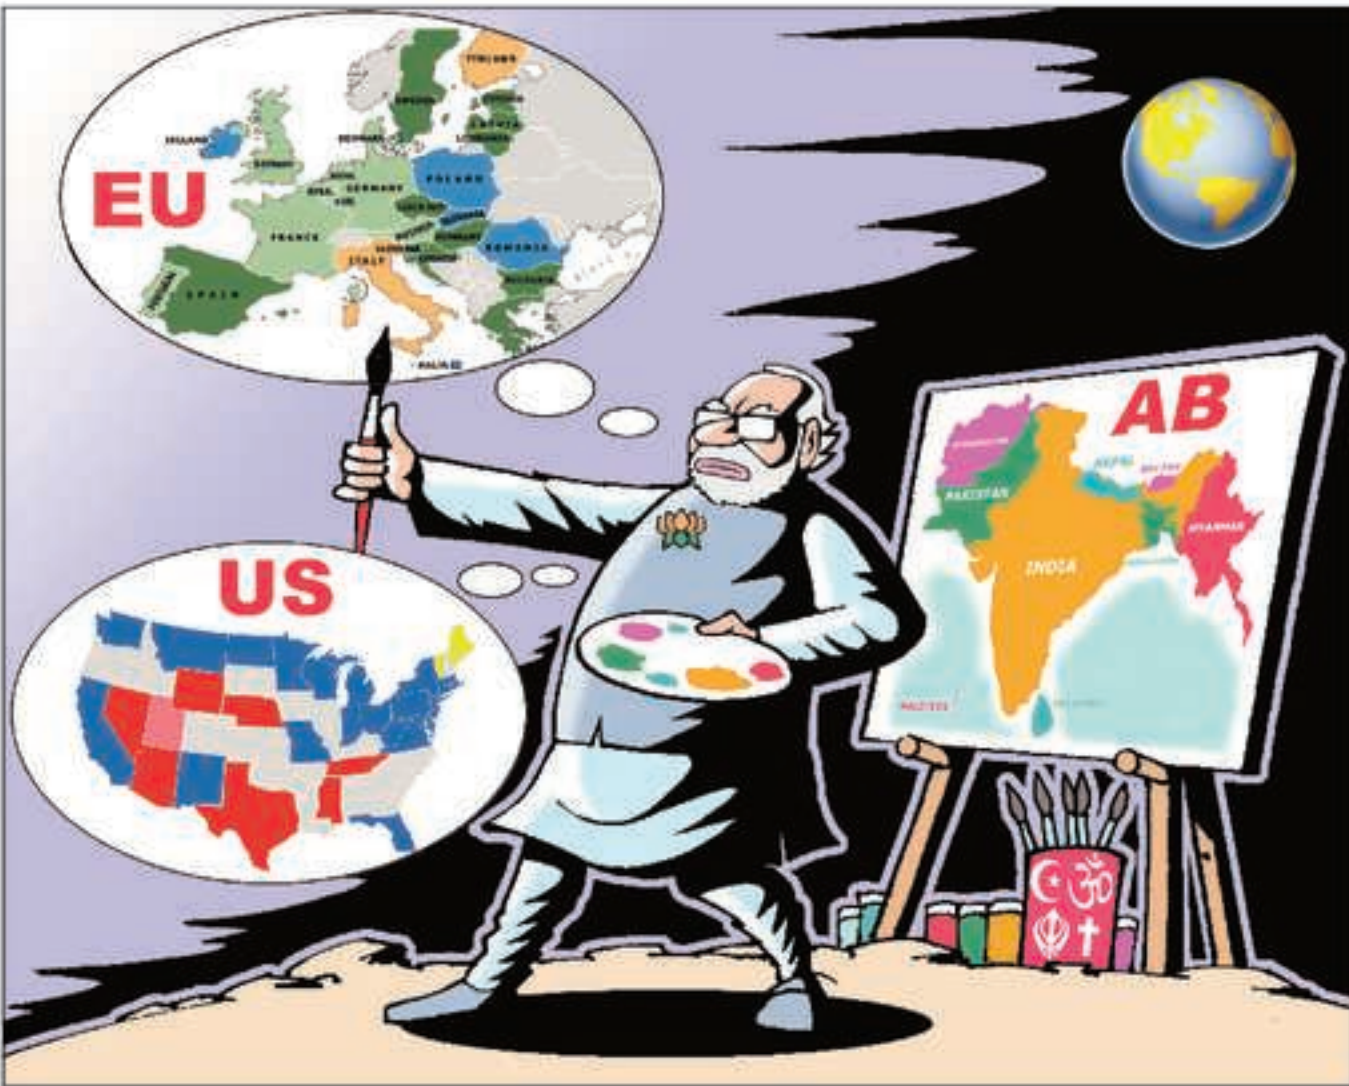

But both are doomed to failure. Recreating Akhand Bharat is unrealistic, and establishing a Hindu Rashtra is ultimately self-defeating. However, the ambition of creating a Greater India has some chance of success by forming a federation of like-minded nations, a Bharat Mahasangh.

Akhand Bharat, in its most expansive version, is envisioned to include territories that constituted the third century BC empire of Chandragupta Maurya. This would incorporate the modern day nations of Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Nepal, Burma, Tibet, Bhutan and Bangladesh. One can immediately see that such an ambitious project is a chimera.

But RSS and BJP leaders have often spoken about reunifying India with Pakistan and Bangladesh. In 1965, Jansangh passed a resolution that "Akhand Bharat will be a reality, unifying India and Pakistan." In 2012, before coming to office Prime Minister Narendra Modi clarified his party's thinking, that Akhand Bharat "does not mean we wage war on any country ... without war, through popular consent, it can happen ... We call this Sanskritik Bharat (Cultural Bharat)."

As recently as December 2015, the issue turned into a major controversy. During Modi's surprise visit to Pakistan, BJP national secretary Ram Madhav declared that "RSS still believes that one day [Pakistan and Bangladesh] will again, through popular goodwill, come together and Akhand Bharat will be created." BJP quickly distanced itself from Madhav's statement.

Today, remarkably, both BJP and RSS have abandoned the goal altogether. Akhand Bharat finds no mention in the mission statements of either group. A clue as to why was provided by Modi in his 2012 interview: "It will only be good for Pakistan when they become a part of united India ... if Pakistan, Bangladesh, Afghanistan and Hindustan become one, then the Muslim majority will increase and it will be easier for Hindustan to become an Islamic country."

Now, making India a Hindu Rashtra is the nationalists' limited new objective. "Our one supreme goal is to bring to life the all-round glory and greatness of our Hindu Rashtra," says the current RSS mission statement. Last year 150 Hindu outfits met in Goa to discuss plans for a Hindu Rashtra by 2023.

Hindu Rashtra is easy to declare but its pitfalls are menacing. The chief danger is that it would turn India into a theocratic state similar to Pakistan. It would weaken our national unity, encourage fissiparous tendencies, cause greater internal strife, and hurt India's image. Ironically, it would damage the spirit, practice and reputation of Hinduism, the one thing the move's proponents want to showcase the most.

Hindu nationalists can turn blue in their face trying to tell the world that Hindu Rashtra is based on Hindutva and hence not Hindu. But nobody is going to buy it

Even more importantly, Hindu Rashtra would forever kill the dream of establishing India as Vishwa Guru, a world leader. No sovereign nation would enter a union or follow India on a principle other than genuine secularism.

Hindu nationalists are going by two theories behind their push for Hindu Rashtra. One, Hinduism is inherently secular; hence India won't become another Pakistan. And two, when Indian Muslims realise they must cower before the wishes of the majority, communal strife would end. But religious fervour is a terribly slippery slope, as we have seen recently in mob lynchings by cow vigilantes and open murders in the

Maharashtra shows the way on how to tackle tuberculosis - including a daily drug regimen and cash transfers

Devendra Fadnavis
India has taken major strides to fight tuberculosis (TB), which remains the country's largest infectious killer. Under the auspices of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the central government in its new National Strategic Plan for TB, has recognised TB elimination as the foremost priority, committing unprecedented funds for the programme, including Rs 600 crore towards nutritional support for patients.

States with a high TB burden such as Maharashtra have a crucial role to play in ensuring effective implementation of these strategies. In 2017, Maharashtra reported 2,14,102 new TB cases of which 9,172 were cases of drug resistant TB (DR-TB). However, the Maharashtra government has undertaken innovative strategies using latest technologies and engaging with the private sector to expand provision of free diagnosis and treatment to all patients.

A call centre provides easy access to private providers to notify TB cases, and in turn offers patients counselling and adherence support. The project which was piloted in Mumbai and Nagpur, resulted in a dramatic increase in notification of TB cases and will now be scaled up to other cities in Maharashtra.

Furthermore, a mass awareness campaign 'TB Harega Desh Jeetega', with the iconic Amitabh Bachchan as its ambassador, was launched by the Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai (MCGM) in 2014 and was subsequently adopted by the central government. The widely popular campaign was disseminated across the country through various mediums.

Last year, based on WHO's recommendations, Maharashtra shifted from an intermittent to a daily drug regimen. A new anti-TB drug, Bedaquiline, was introduced as part of the DR-TB treatment regimen in Maharashtra and has shown successful results. CBNAAT machines were made available for all TB patients through district hospitals and government medical colleges to augment the state's capacity for timely and accurate diagnosis of DR-TB. We understand that delay in diagnosis increases risk of transmission, and therefore my health staff has intensified active case finding efforts across all districts.

A call centre provides easy access to private providers to notify TB cases, and in turn offers patients counselling and adherence support

Additionally, to improve patient tracking and follow-ups, technology based adherence solutions such as 99 DOTS have been rolled out across Maharashtra. Patients call in a toll free helpline with unique numbers printed on the back of the medicine sleeves after taking their doses. This allows programme staff to review adherence and support those who miss their doses.

Along with free diagnosis and treatment we also recognised the importance of addressing social determinants of TB such as malnutrition, which is both a cause and effect of TB. I am happy to share that Maharashtra is one of the first states in the country that introduced schemes to provide nutrition support to TB patients.

Under these schemes my government has set aside Rs 15 crore to provide nutritious food like pulses, rice, peanuts, jaggery and wheat flour to patients with multi-drug resistant (MDR) TB for two years across 22 name of checking love jihad. We must remember how religious hatred took over Indians' sanity during Partition.

Surely, Hindu nationalists don't wish to create an India where a segment of the population lives in constant fear, as aliens. To a Muslim, or a Parsi, or a Christian, a Hindu Rashtra would never be his nation. Also, do we want an India, an age-old civilisation famous for its diversity and tolerance, to have to explain to the world how it is different from other religion-based countries, such as Pakistan, Iran, or Saudi Arabia?

Hindu nationalists can turn blue in their face trying to tell the world that Hindu Rashtra is based on Hindutva and hence not Hindu. But nobody is going to buy it. Hindutva is too intertwined with the religion of the majority. And on the ground, it has become just as fanatical as other religions.

Building a Greater India requires a more innovative approach. It would have to be envisioned along the lines of the European Union or United States of America, as a federation of sovereign states coming together voluntarily for greater common welfare.

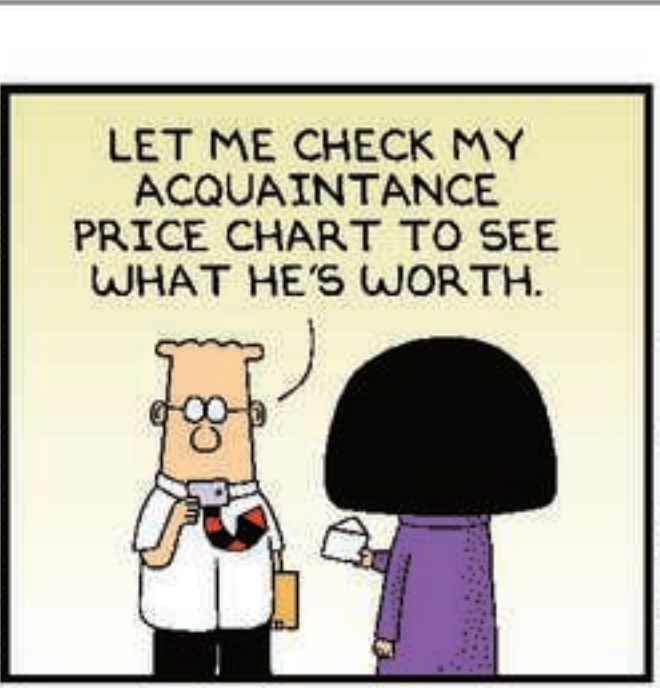

Such a Bharat Mahasangh would have to be based on principles of liberty, egalitarianism, individualism and laissez-faire. Its structure must provide local autonomy with federal administration of specific duties delegated by member states.

Bharat Mahasangh would have to be rooted in genuine secularism. Not today's pseudo variety that allows governments to freely interfere and engage with religions. But one that provides for full freedom of religion with strict separation of church and state.

Granted, at first Bharat Mahasangh may attract only Hindu-minded states, say Nepal and Bhutan. But if structured and pursued properly, it could interest neighbouring Buddhist-minded states of Sri Lanka, Myanmar, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam. In its full glory, Mahasangh could even attract Afghanistan, Pakistan and Bangladesh.

If Greater India is our dream we must take realistic steps towards it.

The True Spirit Of Science Is Not Parochial

Jug Suraiya
Being a true scientist, Charles Darwin wouldn't have been at all miffed by human resources development minister Satyapal Singh claiming that Darwin's theory of evolution was incorrect, and that humans had not, in fact, evolved from apes.

Similarly, Isaac Newton wouldn't have taken exception to the same minister's pronouncement, that much before the English scientist explained how gravity kept in motion the celestial mechanics of the cosmos, ancient India had advanced similar theories regarding the workings of 'great forces' in the universe.

As practising scientists, both Darwin and Newton would have subscribed to the view of the philosopher Karl Popper, that in science, there is no perennial truth engraved in everlasting stone; there are only working hypotheses which, inevitably, have to be modified, or even totally rejected, when another, more workable hypothesis comes along.

As in the case with spirituality, with which it is often compared, science is not a terminal destination but a perpetual quest.

The other aspect that science and spirituality have in common, is that both have a universal perspective, and not one which is parochial.

We can't patent, by nationality or geographical boundary, a scientific discovery or a spiritual revelation, like we do for such products as basmati rice, Darjeeling tea, or champagne. Nationalities and geographical boundaries have to do with the world of politics, a realm which science and spirituality transcend.

Perhaps the best illustration of such transcendence was the first photographic image of our blue planet taken from outer space by an astronaut. It brought home, in the true sense of the term, the blinkered vision which makes us see our common Earth as divided into different, and often mutually antagonistic, nationalities, races and religions.

That unforgettable image also established a link between science and spirituality. It was science which produced the technology which made it possible to capture that image. It was spirituality which interpreted the image as a symbol of a shared humankind above and beyond manmade borders and barriers of political and cultural chauvinism, and the mental and emotional parochialism which they breed. Regrettably, all too often, such politically and ideologically inspired parochialism tries, frequently with success, to hijack the parallel quests of science and spirituality.

To claim on the grounds of ultra-nationalism, as has been done, that ancient India had devised organ transplant surgery as evidenced by the elephant-headed god, Ganesha, is to make a mockery both of true science - to which age-old India made significant genuine contributions in fields as diverse as astronomy and metallurgy - and the spiritual allegory of mythology.

We don't have to make up legends of a mythic past, lost in pre-history, to legitimise the role that what today we call India has played in advancing the ever-expanding frontiers of both science and spirituality, to the uncopied benefit of all humankind.

Like bargain-hunters at an auction, we don't have to make competitive bids against others to claim proprietorship of a scientific or spiritual milestone.

At the conclusion of his international bestseller, 'A Brief History of Time', physicist Stephen Hawking says that the ultimate goal of human knowledge, which he acknowledges may remain unrealisable, is for us to come to "know the mind of God".

As a postscript he might have added: And not ask what passport that mind holds.

Speech & Thought

Freedom of speech and thought matters, especially when it is speech and thought with which we disagree. The moment the majority decides to destroy people for engaging in thought it dislikes, thought crime becomes a reality.

Parents using social media to keep tabs on kids

Most Of Them Read Their Tween's Texts Or Online Updates For Info: Survey

Washington: While social media has been linked to a negative impact on children, most parents believe that it also helps them keep track of their tweens, a poll conducted in the has found.

"The tween stage brings new challenges for parents as they often must balance their child's desire for more freedom and independence with supervision. It's not an easy balancing act," said Sarah Clark from University of Michigan in the US.

The C S Mott Children's Hospital National Poll found that nearly all parents of tweens aged 9-12 agree that social media makes it easier for kids to get in trouble. However, 61% also felt that

The survey found that mothers were more likely than fathers to say they would use technology to monitor their tweens social media helps parents keep track of tweens.

The survey found that 55% of parents read their tween's texts or social media ents track their tween's location on their cell phone during the party. Mothers were more likely than fathers to say they would use technology to monitor their tweens.

"Social media has opened another door of questions about what parents should be keeping tabs on," said Clark, co-director of the poll.

"Establishing family rules around the use of social media, and discussing the reasons for those rules, is an important part of parenting tweens," Clark said.

The majority of parents still wanted to learn more about what their kids were up to the traditional way, with 91% saying they would talk with a classmate's parents when dropping their tween at a party if they did not know the family. Researchers also said 76% would call ahead to make sure the classmate's parents would be supervising the party, researchers said.

About one in four parents in the survey were very concerned about their tweens experimenting with sexual activity, marijuana or other drugs, liquor, and guns or other weapons.

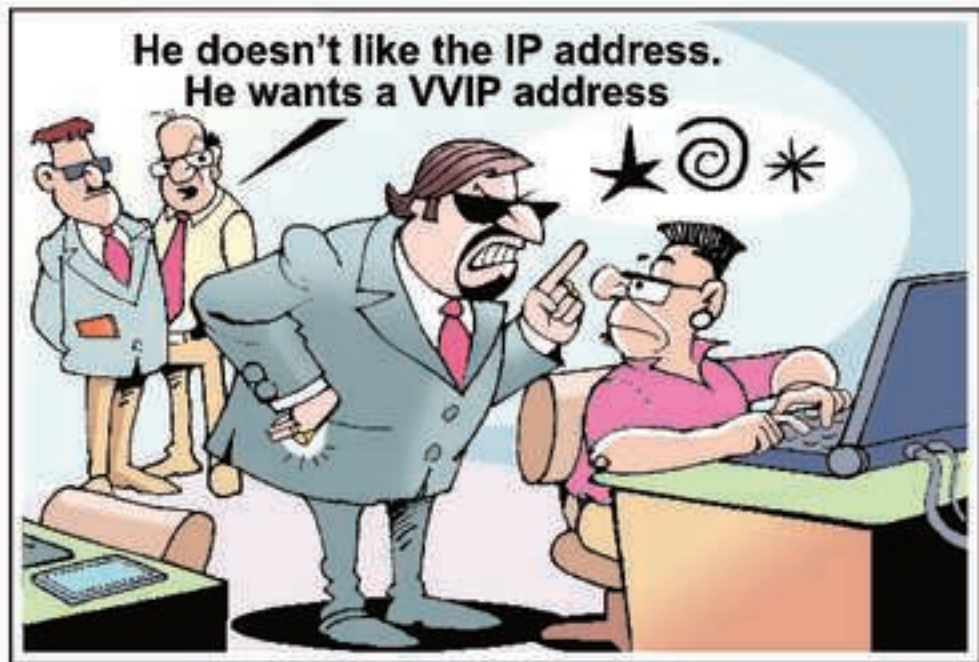

Many polled acknowledged the push and pull between allowing children reasonable space while still monitoring their activities.

However, two-thirds of the parents agreed that tweens need some freedom to make mistakes. PTI

Apple's 'Families' to help curb kids' screen addiction

To help parents control their children's screen addiction touted as a "growing public health crisis", Apple has introduced a new page called 'Families' on its website. The page has various features such as 'Ask To Buy' tool that lets parents approve or decline app purchases from their device. The 'Find My Friends' feature lets parents keep track of their kids' locations, get alerts when they leave or arrive somewhere, and see distances and travel times to where they are. Another feature lets users block in-app purchases. It has the option to limit adult content on kids' devices and restricts browsing to only pre-approved websites. IANS

Too much sun can be bad for driverless cars

Self-driving cars are still working to master the snow. It turns out that excessive sun can also pose a problem for the coming wave of robot drivers.

The threat comes from solar storms, those occasional eruptions of vast amounts of energy that can cause a massive spike in geomagnetic activity and radiation. These storms can sever the data connection between a vehicle's global-position system and the satellites that supply location information. That's what could spell trouble for driverless cars now under development, at least if engineers aren't careful.

Scott McIntosh, from the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colorado in the US warns that self-driving systems should not be overly reliant on GPS. In the event of solar trouble, legions of computer-driven cars would pull over and wait for connectivity to return.

"There is a lot riding on this," McIntosh said. "All it is going to take is a couple of accidents" and the industry will suffer.

Three years ago, the US parked a satellite in deep space, 1 million miles up, and ordered it to engage in an indefinite staring contest with the sun. When solar storms are coming, the US Space

SOLAR TROUBLE

Weather Prediction Center gives a heads-up to airlines and other industries that rely heavily on airborne data. The Earth gets 30 to 60 minutes before the charged particles start wreaking havoc.

In September, the system paid off. Flights bound for the poles were rerouted when the satellite recorded two coronal mass ejections.

The good news is that the sun is less mercurial these days. Its energy outbursts loosely follow an 11-year cycle, which last peaked in April 2014. The dawn of self-driving vehicles appears likely to coincide with a relatively quiet period.

There are other potential solar trouble spots such as coronal holes. A coronal hole is when magnetically charged particles blast out into the universe—possibly at your robotic car. These events can have an impact similar to that of solar storms but usually aren't nearly as severe. BLOOMBERG

Algorithm to help stop cyberattacks

Scientists have developed a novel algorithm that may help detect and prevent cyber attacks on GPS-enabled devices in real time. The algorithm developed by researchers at University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) in the US mitigates the effects of spoofed GPS attacks on electrical grids and other GPS-reliant technologies. "Malicious agents have the ability to disrupt a device's understanding of time and location by emitting a signal that is pretending to be a GPS signal," said Nikolaos Gatsis from UTSA. The algorithm has the ability to recognise false GPS signals and counter an attack while it occurs.

Poor health behind low sperm count? Men with low sperm count are more likely to have more health issues, a study has found. "Our study shows low sperm count is associated with metabolic alterations, cardiovascular risk and low bone mass," said Alberto Ferlin, from University of Padova in Italy.

New male birth control pill a success: Experts

Washington: In a major step towards developing a once-daily 'male pill', a new birth control drug has been found to be safe and effective in men, scientists say.

Like the pill for women, the experimental male oral contraceptive — called dimethandrolone undecanoate, or DMAU — combines activity of an androgen (male hormone) like testosterone, and a progestin, said Stephanie Page, a professor at the University of Washington. "DMAU is a major step forward in the development of a once-daily 'male pill,'" said Page, senior investigator of the study on 100 healthy men, aged 18 to 50 years, presented at the Endocrine Society's annual meeting in Chicago.

"Many men say they would prefer a daily pill as a reversible contraceptive, rather than injections or topical gels, which are also being developed," she said. PTI

Shoppers prefer customer service from gadgets

Most buyers prefer to be left alone as they shop in store for items such as apparel and prefer to use in-store technology for customer service over personalised attention from store employees, according to a new study.

The findings are based on a shopper survey conducted by HRC Retail Advisory and highlights the challenges retail chains increasingly face as they try to find the right balance between staffing and technology in stores.

For example, about 85% of those surveyed want to be able to check prices at price scanners instead of having to ask a store employee for pricing information. The study also shows that 76% of overall respondents rated an in-store app that will provide personal recommendations as important.

"It's not that they don't want any service at all, but what consumers increasingly want is to be able to control the service that they are looking for," Faria Eftos, president of HRC Retail Advisory, told Reuters.

The trend, however, did not hold with shoppers looking to buy electronics, a majority of whom were still looking for personal assistance from store workers.

The retail consultancy interviewed 2,903 adults between the ages of 10 and 73 as part of the survey in the United States and Canada.

The survey was conducted from February 20 to March 7 and has a margin of error of +/- 2%. REUTERS
